Senate Sends Johnson $3 Billion Aid Measure

Bill Authorizes Credit For Sale To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today passed and sent to the White House a compromise 3-billion-dollar foreign-aid money bill giving the president authority to guarantee credit for private commodity sales to Communist nations.

The action, paving the way for the adjournment of Congress, came after Republican protests against President Lyndon B. Johnson's insistence on interrupting the Senate's brief Christmas holiday to win final passage. They argued the measure could have gone over to the new session opening Jan. 7.

Final passage came with the voice vote adoption of a compromise amendment—previously cleared by the House at its unprecedented early-morning session Dec. 24 allowing Johnson to grant credits for commodity sales to the Soviet bloc if he determines it is "in the national interest" and advises Congress within 30 days.

MINOR CHANGE

The Senate, earlier, had approved the conference report, which embraced the money items in the bill, by a vote of 46-14.

All that remained after that was the formal acceptance of a minor amendment aimed at limiting the employment of third-country nationals on U.S.-sponsored foreign aid projects abroad, and the amendment dealing with credit sales to the Soviet bloc.

Both were accepted by voice votes.

The only roll call came on approval of the money items in the bill.

40 DEMOCRATS

Voting to approve the money items were 40 Democrats and 16 Republicans. Seven Democrats and seven Republicans opposed.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), the majority leader, won unanimous agreement to limit debate on the controversial measure to not more than four hours.

Republican protests were voiced after Mansfield said that to put off action until congress starts a new session next week "would have flown in the face of the President's wishes in a non-partisan matter of foreign policy."

'MOST URGENT'

Mansfield told the senate that "in view of the president's request, it was most urgent that it reconvene in the present session to dispose of this measure."

Arms Budget Talks Started By President

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson held a new series of budget talks today and gave top military commanders a chance to protest his plan to lop 9 billion dollars from their proposed spending.

Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, offered only a one-word comment when he arrived for the military planning session: "Budget."

The joint chiefs, representing individual services that seek a total defense budget of about 60 billion dollars wanted to appeal for reconsideration of Johnson's tentative decision to hold the total to about 51 billion dollars.

Johnson has said he expected to present Congress with a defense budget that will be several hundred million dollars below the current-year total of 51.2 billion dollars.

Boating Tragedy Claims 2, 1 Lost

Two housewives, from Livermore and Byron drowned in a boating tragedy at the treacherous mouth of Tomales Bay Saturday, and the husband of one of them is also presumed drowned.

A Coast Guard cutter recovered the bodies of Mrs. Rica Egbert, 28, of Livermore and Mrs. Irene Farren, 56, of Byron, Contra Costa County.

The Coast Guard, which sent a helicopter and a 44-foot cutter, gave up the search Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Farren's husband, Barton Farren, 56, an electrician.

Lone survivor of the tragedy was Mrs. Egbert's husband, Elmer Egbert, who clung to a bell buoy at the mouth of Tomales Bay for more than an hour until he was rescued by an unidentified fishing boat. He is also an electrician.

Mrs. Egbert leaves two children, aged 2 and 4.

The two couples rented a cabin at Dillon Beach Friday. Saturday about 9 a.m., they rented a 17-foot boat from Lawson's Landing, attached their 15-horsepower motor, and set out to fish for rock cod.

Gibbs Lawson, operator of Lawson's Landing, said Egbert seemed "pretty badly dazed" and could not remember exactly what happened. All Egbert could recall was that "a wave hit us and I went over."

A fishing boat found him clinging to the buoy about noon. He was taken to Lawson's Landing and the Coast Guard notified. A helicopter crew spotted the bodies of the two women floating under water about 1:20 p.m.

The boat was equipped with life jackets, but none of the victims had been wearing the jackets.

Tomales Bay Area Birds Spotted—165 Species

Members of the Marin Audubon Society trekked in sunshine and fog over the hills and dales of the Tomales Bay area yesterday conducting an annual bird census.

Working in teams, more than 50 members spotted 165 species in a 15-mile area centered around Marshall.

Two trumpeter swans, nine whistling swans and a yellow-shafted flicker, a species commonly found east of the Rockies, were among the "finds."

Younger members of the group started the annual bird count at midnight Saturday, looking for owls in the Tomales State Park area. Other members started their count at 8 a.m., and all continued until darkness.

The count is part of a nationwide survey, said William S. Picher of Belvedere, bird count chairman. Local findings will be reported to the National Audubon Society in New York.

"The count is the most useful scientific service possible because it is done every year at the same place at the same time," he said. "This enables the society to keep a close check on changes in the number of species and the range of the species."

Changes brought about because of building or logging or other activities would be reflected in the count Picher said.

Sixteen team, containing an observer and a tallier, counted every bird they saw and estimated the size of flocks. Their reports were compiled at the home of Gus Miller in Inverness at the close of the count.

Last year observers counted 166 species and 75,811 birds. Picher said he had not yet compiled a total count of birds seen yesterday.

State Aide Warns Against Dumping Garbage At Park

Neil E. Power, park supervisor, issued this warning today after a weekend cleanup netted a discouraging amount of beer cans, bottles, papers, a license plate and the right-front fender of a car.

"There seems to be no end to what people will throw over the bank," Power said. "Two weeks ago we found a dead calf wrapped in a blanket. The fender deposited in the creek is most aggravting as it was brought out deliberately and junked here."

Power said he is offering a $5 reward out of his own pocket for information leading to the apprehension of the person or persons who threw the fender in the creek.

Each week park crews cleaning along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through the park pick up about two garbage cans full of cans, bottles and papers, he said.

It is illegal to dump rubbish in the park, Power said. In the cases taken to court the fines have been $50 for depositing junk over the bank and $25 for placing household garbage from home in park garbage cans.

"Don't you think garbage service is cheaper and better?" Power said.

Khrushchev Says Better Year Possible

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today joint efforts by the United States and the Soviet Union can make 1964 "a year of decisive change for the better in the entire international situation."

In reply to three questions submitted to him in writing last week by this correspondent, Khrushchev said he was convinced the new year can bring East-West understanding on a broad range of issues and easing of the cold war

He combined New Year greetings and best wishes for the American people with a plea for "peaceful cooperation, good neighborliness and friendship" between the two nations.

"This is at wish for peace, a wish for peaceful and happy lives," he said.

Khrushchev said the Soviet needs peace to fulfill its ambitious economic and agricultural plans and "the American people, we believe, do not want war either."

"One recalls the words of President Kennedy, who died so tragically, that our countries need a better weapon than the hydrogen bomb, a weapon more perfect than ballistic missiles or nuclear submarines, and that this better weapon is peaceful cooperation," he said.

The stated intention of the new President of the United States, Lyndon Johnson, to continue in foreign affairs the policy of peaceful settlement of international problems, of improving relations with the Soviet Union and calling a halt to the cold war, has been met with gratification in this country.

"We too, are in favor of this. If the efforts of our two countries and of other states are united in the interests of peace, then the coming year of 1964 can undoubtedly become a year of decisive change for the better in the entire international situation."

Khrushchev said he was con-

Office Safe Broken By Burglars Who Used Ladder To Enter Second Story

Burglars with somewhat strange techniques broke into Elliott's Laundry and Cleaners in Sausalito early today, hammered open the office safe and stole $305 in currency and change.

A small amount of money was left behind in an envelope in a far corner of the safe, acting police chief David Cooper reported.

Cooper said police were puzzled by the burglars having placed a ladder to the second story office when the stairway to the office was nearby. The ladder, apparently found in the main floor of the building, was leaned from the main floor to a landing on the second floor.

Cooper said it is unknown whether burglars squeezed between narrow bars under a roof skylight or broke a rear window and entered a back door of the building at 107 Caledonia Street.

Two hundred dollars belonged to the firm and $105 to the employees, having been segregated into the boys' fund, $40; soft drinks, $40, and coffee, $25.

Employee Clarence Rogers discovered the break-in at about 5:45 a.m. when he arrived for work, noticing the ladder out of place and the office door opened. He telephoned police.

A crow bar, pipe wrench and sledge hammer, borrowed from the laundry, were believed to have been used. The 23-by-29-by-24 inch safe was attacked, Cooper said, by knocking off the combination dial with a sledge hammer and punching out the shaft.

If entry was through the skylight, Cooper said, the person entering would have had to have been very small. The metal bars, after the skylight had been lifted off its casing, were apparently bent with an instrument.

2 Women Save Homes From Fires

Two wakeful women saved their homes from flames yesterday and today.

The "odor of heavy smoke" awakened Mrs. Lester E. Johnson at 9 Bay Vista Drive in Alto about 5 a.m. yesterday. She found the living room was on fire.

Alto Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen said the blaze started in an overstuffed chair, probably from a cigarette. It damaged the chair, wall, rug and other furniture in the room.

At 1:05 a.m. today, Mrs. S. N. Newton awoke in her home on Resaca Avenue in Forest Knolls to smell smoke and see embers blowing from a living room fire place.

She awakend her husband and three children, and all escaped unhurt. Marin County firemen stopped the blaze after it had burned a hole in the roof. They said a defective chimney was responsible, and estimated damage at $750.

Two U.S. Copters Shot Down By Reds

SAIGON, Vietnam (AP)—Two U.S. Army escort helicopters were shot down by Communist ground fire in an operation 20 miles west of Saigon today. There were no casualties.

Both helicopters were on an "eagle flight" mission in which troops are flown around looking for Viet Cong concentrations.

Alas, Clouds Hid Eclipse In Marin

The earth moved between the sun and the moon early today, causing a total eclipse of the moon, but in most areas of Marin County the clouds eclipsed the eclipse.

Noticed only by a few night workers or early risers the eclipse started at 1:24 a.m. with the moon in full eclipse from 2:27 to 3.46 and all clear again at 4:49.

A few Marin County observers reported that the full eclipse was obscured by clouds.

Debris Probed Where Hotel Fire Killed 21

By IRISH DONNELLY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Ashes and blackened debris in the Hotel Roosevelt's once-grand ballroom held the secret today to the cause of a fire which left 21 dead and 66 injured.

Flames burst out yesterday morning in or around the main floor ballroom, spewing heavy smoke and deadly gases upward through the 12-story, 300-room hotel, packed with 500 Gator Bowl weekend guests.

Nineteen victims were asphyxiated by smoke and fumes.

The disaster gave Jacksonville its worst tragedy.

One woman died in a plunge from an upper story window. An assistant fire chief died of a heart attack.

Only the efficiency of firemen and rescues by Navy helicopters of guests who fled to the roof averted a worse tragedy.

Most deaths occurred above the eighth floor, out of reach of the city's two 100-foot aerial ladder trucks.

Among those rescued was Miss America of 1964, Donna Axum of El Dorado, Ark. The 21-year-old beauty and her shaperone, Lucile Previti, were hospitalized overnight, suffering with smoke inhalation.

Business executives were among the dead. They included James Jackson Swick, 59, owner-president of Copeland Sausage Co. His wife, Lorena Eaker Rena Swick, 47, also was killed.

Another executive killed was Wade Hildinger of Buffalo, N. Y., vice president for sales of National Gypsum Co.

Mayor Haydon Burns said city fire marshals inspected the hotel within the past 10 days and found it complied with all fire safety rules.

"We know that the origin was in the ceiling of the ballroom, but the cause has not yet been determined," he said.

Death Asked For Bulgarian Spy

VIENNA (UPI)—The Bulgarian state prosecutor today demanded the death penalty for Ivan-Assen Georgiev, the handsome diplomat who confessed he was a highly-paid spy for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The extreme penalty was urged by Prosecutor Ivan Vachkov as the Communist state wound up its case against the diplomat after the Bulgarian court heard testimony seeking to link him with an official of the U.S. legation in Sofia.

43 Civil Rights Demonstrators Jailed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Forty-three more civil rights demonstrators were arrested today when they attempted a sit-in at the office of School Supt. Calvin E. Gross.

The demonstrators, including 12 children, were protesting an interim plan for relocating Negro students in predominately Negro schools. The board of education is reviewing the plan and will present a "definitive" plan Feb. 1.

Area Prepares For Arrival Of Pope Paul

Jesus Worked As Carpenter In Hills Of Galilee

NAZARETH, Israel (AP)—The community in the hills of Galilee where Jesus grew up and worked as a carpenter is busily preparing for the arrival of the man Roman Catholics regard as the vicar of Christ.

According to Christian tradition, it was in Nazareth that the Virgin Mary learned she was to give birth to the Messiah; it was here that Jesus spent a great part of His life before embarking on the road that led to Calvary. It was from here that He descended to the Sea of Galilee and met Simon the Fisherman, whom He named Peter.

FIRST POPE

Roman Catholics consider Peter their first Pope.

Next Sunday, Pope Paul VI will become the first head of the Roman Catholic Church since Peter to set foot on this soil.

He will find a city in many ways is a microcosm of the segmented Christian Church that he hopes one day to unite and in a larger sense, he will find that Nazareth reflects the many ways in which many people have sought God.

Nazareth, situated in the heart of the State of Israel, has an overwhelmingly Arab population. Christians of one persuasion or another—most of whose ancestors were converted hundreds of years ago in the days of the Crusades—comprise about half the city's 28,000 population.

GREEK CATHOLICS

The largest group of Nazarene Christians is the Greek Orthodox, followed by the Greek Catholics, who have ties to the Vatican, but pray in Arabic instead of Latin. There are about 3,000 Roman Catholics in the city. The remaining Christians belong to one of several Protestant denominations.

Pope Paul VI will spend 75 minutes in Nazareth—the longest stop on his 11-hour itinerary in Israel. He will say Mass at the Grotto of the Annunciation where Christians believe the archangel Gabriel told Mary of the coming birth. The Grotto Church is being rebuilt over the remains of three earlier ones.

However, the youngster was not breathing when taken to the Kern County General Hospital.

Doctors restored breathing for a while, but it lapsed again early today and the boy died.

Belvedere Chief Urges Mesh Over Fireplaces

Belvedere Fire Chief L. T. Mersereau recommended today that home owners place quarter-inch wire mesh over the tops of their fireplace chimneys to help prevent roof fires.

His crew doused a fire on the roof of the home of Jerome Duffy at 5 Hilarita Circle Saturday afternoon which Mersereau said might have been prevented if the chimney had been screened. Damage, two small holes, was estimated at $50.

Johnson's Weekend Session With Erhard 'A Success'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Lyndon B. Johnson's first venture into the deep water of personal diplomacy was a success, according to German and American informants who had a part in his two-day meeting at Johnson City, Tex., with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

If nothing else, the two new leaders in the Wests' struggle with the East got to know each other and reached "full agreement and understanding."

THE TRUTH

The phrase is a stock one in the copy book of diplomats. But this time, said Erhard, "it is not a diplomatic statement. It is just the truth."

A communique issued yesterday after their meeting declared that Johnson and Erhard were agreed "that it is highly important to continue to explore all opportunities for the improvement of East-West relations, the easing of tensions, and the enlargement of the prospects of a peace that can be stable because it is just."

STATEMENT QUALIFIED

This was qualified, though, with a declaration that there "should be no arrangement" that would perpetuate a divided Germany.

'STEP FORWARD'

The rotund chancellor described his meeting-of-minds with Johnson on this subject as "a step forward in view of the readiness to take new initiatives and to open discussions on possibilities that night exist."

Some question about Erhard's enthusiam toward East-West talks was raised Saturday night after his press secretary, Karl-Gunther von Hase, said the German leader found Soviet responses to conciliatory Western moves "not very encouraging." It was said later, however, that Erhard had the Berlin and German problems uppermost in his mind in making the assessment.

The central issues at the conference were trade and related economic questions, rather than East-West problems, informants said.

German observers noted that Erhard was aware that French President Charles de Gaulle will not likely be too pleased with the communique's urging greater economic integration of Europe and approving the U. S. position that both agricultural and industrial produdcts must be included in forthcoming tariff-cutting negotiations.

The trade talks are scheduled for next spring between the United States and the European Common Market in which France and Germany are powers.

Other major points in the communique:

Sargent Shriver, U. S. Peace Corps director, is going to Bonn to help Germany set up its own Peace Corps.

The United States will "maintain the present six-division level of combat forces in Germany, as long as they are needed."

During their final day together, Johnson and Erhard worshiped at a Lutheran church in nearby Fredericksburg, a city of 5,00 founded 117 years ago by German immigrants. Part of the service was in German.

After another formal meeting, the president and the chancellor drove to the Stonewall High School gymnasium, near the ranch, for a Texas-style barbecue.

Johnson then provided his own entertainment as he handed out at least 50 Texas Stetson hats—the first of which he clapped over Erhard's brow.

Ex-Undersheriff Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former Undersheriff William V. Hollingbery Jr., 72, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered Saturday while leaving the East-West Shrine game. Hollingbery was the brother of Orrin E. (Babe) Hollingbery, former Washington State Football coach.

Opals are more brilliant on warm days than on cold days.

MURDER IS LARGELY FAMILY AFFAIR, SOCIOLOGIST SAYS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Murder is largely a family affair, a New York sociologist said today.

At least, declared Dr. Gerhard Falk of the State University College at Buffalo, murder is a "very intimate matter, which takes place between relatives and friends and rarely between strangers."

Describing a study of various aspects of homicide, he told the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science that among 21 murders committed in Buffalo from 1948-1955, only 12 per cent of the victims were strangers to the killers.

Rockefeller Unfolds Strategy By Selecting Oregon Primary

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's announcement that he will enter the Oregon presidential preference primary next May 15 is a further unfolding of his strategy.

The New York governor is seeking support from rank-and-file Republicans to bolster his campaign, which has had rough going, and bypass GOP leaders, who have offered him little support.

Polls indicate Rockefeller has a long way to go to overcome the adverse effects of his divorce and remarriage.

An Associated Press survey of Republican county chairmen throughout the country on whom they thought would be the strongest nominee, and the party's likely candidate showed Rockefeller fourth behind Sen. Barry Goldwater, Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Rockefeller hopes victories in primaries will convince key Republicans that developments in his private life have not hampered his ability to win elections.

Rockefeller will run in the New Hampshire primary March 10 and the California primary June 2.

In other developments:

In Los Angeles, Robert Rowan resigned as treasurer of the California Republican State Committee to support Rockefeller as a man who "truly reflects the mainstream of the thinking within the Republican party."

In Sacramento, Gov. Edmund G. Brown predicted Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, or Nixon, the GOP candidate in 1960, would be the nominee.

Rockefeller resumes this week the active campaigning he suspended when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22.

'Time' Picks Rev. Martin Luther King

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a leader in the Negro drive for civil rights, has been named Man of the Year by Time magazine. He's the first Negro to win the award, begun 37 years ago.

The weekly news magazine said King "has made himself the unchallenged voice of the Negro people — and the disquieting conscience of the whites."

Pollution May Cause Air Zoning

CLEVELAND (AP)—Air Pollution may cause cities to start zoning their air as carefully as they zone land, a physicist suggests.

As a concomitant, Dr. Francois N. Frenkiel added yesterday, "giant smoking lounges" might be set up, where economic or human needs would allow pollution in addition to that permitted in the air zoning.

Frenkiel, of the University of Minnesota, spoke as a member of the Air Conservation Commission of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. It is studying the problem of air pollution.

Another speaker, Dr. John R. Goldsmith of the California Public Health Department in Berkeley, reported that carbon monoxide pouring from auto exhausts and smokestacks is suspected of killing or making ill humans in many cities.

He added that there is no definite proof yet that carbon monoxide is harming human health, but many doctors and scientists think it may. It could be especially harmful to those with heart or lung illnesses, he commented.

The level of carbon monoxide in Los Angeles has been rising about 10 per cent a year until recently, Dr. Goldsmith reported.

"It is established," he continued, "that air pollution has killed and caused chronic disease."

The victim was Wilburn Satawake.

The child's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Trejo, rushed him to a fire station late yesterday and firemen removed the balloon from his throat.

However, the youngster was not breathing when taken to the Kern County General Hospital.

Belvedere Chief Urges Mesh Over Fireplaces

Belvedere Fire Chief L. T. Mersereau recommended today that home owners place quarter-inch wire mesh over the tops of their fireplace chimneys to help prevent roof fires.

His crew doused a fire on the roof of the home of Jerome Duffy at 5 Hilarita Circle Saturday afternoon which Mersereau said might have been prevented if the chimney had been screened. Damage, two small holes, was estimated at $50.

Johnson's Weekend Session With Erhard 'A Success'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Lyndon B. Johnson's first venture into the deep water of personal diplomacy was a success, according to German and American informants who had a part in his two-day meeting at Johnson City, Tex., with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

If nothing else, the two new leaders in the Wests' struggle with the East got to know each other and reached "full agreement and understanding."

THE TRUTH

The phrase is a stock one in the copy book of diplomats. But this time, said Erhard, "it is not a diplomatic statement. It is just the truth."

A communique issued yesterday after their meeting declared that Johnson and Erhard were agreed "that it is highly important to continue to explore all opportunities for the improvement of East-West relations, the easing of tensions, and the enlargement of the prospects of a peace that can be stable because it is just."

STATEMENT QUALIFIED

This was qualified, though, with a declaration that there "should be no arrangement" that would perpetuate a divided Germany.

'STEP FORWARD'

The rotund chancellor described his meeting-of-minds with Johnson on this subject as "a step forward in view of the readiness to take new initiatives and to open discussions on possibilities that night exist."

Some question about Erhard's enthusiam toward East-West talks was raised Saturday night after his press secretary, Karl-Gunther von Hase, said the German leader found Soviet responses to conciliatory Western moves "not very encouraging." It was said later, however, that Erhard had the Berlin and German problems uppermost in his mind in making the assessment.

The central issues at the conference were trade and related economic questions, rather than East-West problems, informants said.

German observers noted that Erhard was aware that French President Charles de Gaulle will not likely be too pleased with the communique's urging greater economic integration of Europe and approving the U. S. position that both agricultural and industrial produdcts must be included in forthcoming tariff-cutting negotiations.

The trade talks are scheduled for next spring between the United States and the European Common Market in which France and Germany are powers.

Other major points in the communique:

Sargent Shriver, U. S. Peace Corps director, is going to Bonn to help Germany set up its own Peace Corps.

The United States will "maintain the present six-division level of combat forces in Germany, as long as they are needed."

During their final day together, Johnson and Erhard worshiped at a Lutheran church in nearby Fredericksburg, a city of 5,00 founded 117 years ago by German immigrants. Part of the service was in German.

After another formal meeting, the president and the chancellor drove to the Stonewall High School gymnasium, near the ranch, for a Texas-style barbecue.

Johnson then provided his own entertainment as he handed out at least 50 Texas Stetson hats—the first of which he clapped over Erhard's brow.

MURDER IS LARGELY FAMILY AFFAIR, SOCIOLOGIST SAYS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Murder is largely a family affair, a New York sociologist said today.

At least, declared Dr. Gerhard Falk of the State University College at Buffalo, murder is a "very intimate matter, which takes place between relatives and friends and rarely between strangers."

Describing a study of various aspects of homicide, he told the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science that among 21 murders committed in Buffalo from 1948-1955, only 12 per cent of the victims were strangers to the killers.

Rockefeller Unfolds Strategy By Selecting Oregon Primary

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's announcement that he will enter the Oregon presidential preference primary next May 15 is a further unfolding of his strategy.

The New York governor is seeking support from rank-and-file Republicans to bolster his campaign, which has had rough going, and bypass GOP leaders, who have offered him little support.

Polls indicate Rockefeller has a long way to go to overcome the adverse effects of his divorce and remarriage.

An Associated Press survey of Republican county chairmen throughout the country on whom they thought would be the strongest nominee, and the party's likely candidate showed Rockefeller fourth behind Sen. Barry Goldwater, Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Rockefeller hopes victories in primaries will convince key Republicans that developments in his private life have not hampered his ability to win elections.

Rockefeller will run in the New Hampshire primary March 10 and the California primary June 2.

In other developments:

In Los Angeles, Robert Rowan resigned as treasurer of the California Republican State Committee to support Rockefeller as a man who "truly reflects the mainstream of the thinking within the Republican party."

In Sacramento, Gov. Edmund G. Brown predicted Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, or Nixon, the GOP candidate in 1960, would be the nominee.

Rockefeller resumes this week the active campaigning he suspended when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22.

'Time' Picks Rev. Martin Luther King

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a leader in the Negro drive for civil rights, has been named Man of the Year by Time magazine. He's the first Negro to win the award, begun 37 years ago.

The weekly news magazine said King "has made himself the unchallenged voice of the Negro people — and the disquieting conscience of the whites."

Pollution May Cause Air Zoning

CLEVELAND (AP)—Air Pollution may cause cities to start zoning their air as carefully as they zone land, a physicist suggests.

As a concomitant, Dr. Francois N. Frenkiel added yesterday, "giant smoking lounges" might be set up, where economic or human needs would allow pollution in addition to that permitted in the air zoning.

Frenkiel, of the University of Minnesota, spoke as a member of the Air Conservation Commission of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. It is studying the problem of air pollution.

Another speaker, Dr. John R. Goldsmith of the California Public Health Department in Berkeley, reported that carbon monoxide pouring from auto exhausts and smokestacks is suspected of killing or making ill humans in many cities.

He added that there is no definite proof yet that carbon monoxide is harming human health, but many doctors and scientists think it may. It could be especially harmful to those with heart or lung illnesses, he commented.

The level of carbon monoxide in Los Angeles has been rising about 10 per cent a year until recently, Dr. Goldsmith reported.

Soprano Applauded In Series Concert

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Mill Valley's rebuilt Brown's Hall resounded more than usually last night to the tumultuous acclaim always accorded the Bach to Mozart Chamber Players.

Had the hall not been packed and had Edward Haug not been so skilled on the trumpet, acoustics might have been a problem, for structural changes have sharpened the sound.

Addition of visual interest was the other major difference in the hall noted in this opening concert in the fourth annual Candlelight series sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club. The hall is now a showcase for the works of local artists, but those wishing to examine the pictures in detail should come early in the future, since floor space is too full to permit perusal during intermissions.

As in previous concerts, soprano Carol Bogard, with her superlatively trained, expressive voice, beautiful tone and attractive appearance, was the star, and baritone Edgar Jones was of comparable stature as an artist.

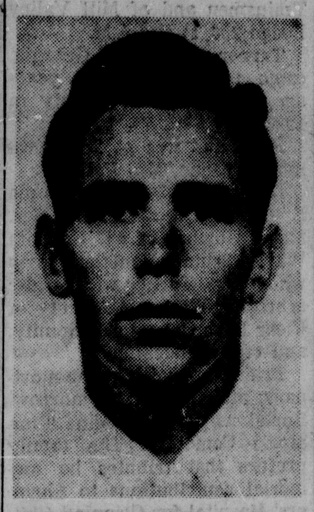

However solo honors were better distributed, with the inclusion of "Sonata For Trumpet in D Major" by Purcell with Haug playing trumpet, and Bach's "Concerto For Harpsichord in F Minor" with Roy Bogas as the instrument. This, no doubt, was especially pleasing to series subscribers who had expressed a desire for more emphasis on instrumental music rather than vocal.

Audiences attending these concerts may be exceptionally knowledgeable, but it hardly seems likely all are multi-lingual. Therefore, in the absence of program notes (which might be too formal for this casual atmosphere anyway) on such numbers as Vivaldi's motetto "O Qui Coeli Terraque" and Bach's cantata No. 58, "Ach Gott, Wie Manches Herzeldeid," we would like to hear Duste do some of the informal commentary and explanation he does so well.

The group was fortunate in having so notable an artist as Nathan Rubin as first violinist for the evening Others contributing to the fine string ensemble were Ellen Dressler, cello; Elizabeth Bell, viola and Ruggiero Pelosi, second violinist.

The Bach cantata was such an exhilarating finale that it drew well deserved demand for repetition of the final portion. Scarlatti's "Sinfonie No. 2 in D Major" for trumpet, oboe and strings opened the program.

WANTED BY FBI — Arthur William Couts, 22, of Philadelphia, described as "violence-prone and trigger-happy," has joined the FBI's list of the 10 most wanted men. He was convicted of armed robbery and several other counts and is now sought for crossing state lines to avoid arrest and for violation of probation.

Governor To Talk

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California will lecture at Harvard University Jan. 8 on "New Challenges to American Federalism."

Two members of a Sausalito family were in San Jose Hospital today with severe injuries suffered in a head-on auto crash that killed a Pacific Grove woman Saturday afternoon.

William A. Austin, 51, of 26 Crecienta Drive, Sausalito, who works as a salesman for Montgomery Ward and Co. in Oakland, escaped with a minor forehead laceration.

But his wife, Elaine, 42, and their daughter, Theo, 9, were hospitalized with serious injuries. Mrs. Austin suffered scalp cuts and head injuries and was listed as "fair" today at San Jose Hospital. Theo was in "satisfactory" condition with a fractured leg.

Driver of the other car, Mrs. Hulda E. Krieger, 60, of Pacific Grove, was killed in the crash.

Highway patrolmen said the crash occurred on Monterey Highway 10 miles south of San Jose, about two-tenths of a mile north of Bailey Avenue. Mrs. Krieger's car, southbound on Highway 101, crossed the center line and collided with the northbound car driven by Austin.

Three Hurt In Marin Car Crash

Three persons were injured when a car slammed head-on into the concrete bridge railing of the southbound on-ramp to Highway 101 from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 11 p.m. yesterday.

The driver, Walter Corwell, 56, of San Francisco was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut knee. His wife, Dorothy, 42, was treated for a sprained right ankle and their son, Donald, 6, for a bruised chin.

The California Highway Patrol said Corwell lost control of his car when another car passed him.

Sailor Is On Job

James L. Palmateer, aviation electronics technician airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Palmateer of 214 Prospect Drive, San Rafael, has reported for duty with Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron 11 based at the Naval Air Station, North Island, San Diego.

Fairfax Navy Man Injured In Collision

Navy Corpsman 3/c Galen Onizuka, 19, of Fairfax suffered a broken nose yesterday in a spectacular head-on auto crash which injured seven persons on the Coast Highway just north of the Santa Cruz Country line.

Galen is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Onizuka of 37 Woodland Road, Fairfax. He was under treatment today at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland, where he is regularly stationed.

Galen was riding with another Navy enlisted man, John C. Farrar, 20, who is a musician at San Diego Navy Base. Farrar was also hospitalized at Oak Knoll Hospital with a broken elbow and broken leg.

Farrar lived in Fairfax until his family moved away about a year ago. He and young Onizuka were classmates at Sir Francis Drake High School two years ago.

Farrar's car collided with one driven by Stewart D. Rees, 39, of North Vancouver, B.C. Rees, his wife, and three children were all taken to Community Hospital in Santa Cruz.

Planners Asked To Rule On Live Grass Cutter

A Tiburon family has asked the county for permission to own a live grass cutter and poison oak exterminator.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Carter, 3330 Paradise Drive, have promised in their request for a use permit, that the burro they want to keep as a pet will not be a nuisance to their neighbors. The corral will be 40 feet from the road and 160 feet from the nearest neighboring house.

"Our next door neighbors are delighted at the idea," Mrs. Carter said today. The Marin County Planning Commission will consider the request Jan. 6.

She added that the family expects to find the burro highly utilitarian. "We live up on a sort of a cliff and we're tired of lugging stuff from our boat," she said.

The boundary between Oklahoma and Texas is, by court decree, the south bank of the Red River.

Four Men, Two Boys Board Trimaran For Year's Cruise

REDONDO BEACH (AP)—Four men and two boys a 38-foot sailing trimaran are at sea today on the first leg of a year-long cruise.

Their goal? Strickly pleasure.

The skipper, Leon Cook, 43, of Monterey Park, said his two sons, Billy, 11, and Robert, 9, have permission to miss a year of school.

A crew member, Bill Pevy, 27, of Long Beach, will act as their teacher during the trip. Other crew members are Jerry Eaton, 23, of Redondo Beach and Syd Thompson, 27, of Dunnville, Ontario, Canada.

Cook said the three-hulled boat is loaded with 10 tons of stores, 100 gallons of water and 20 gallons of gasoline for an outboard motor. He said the vessel took three years to build.

The boat, named the Greyhound, will stop at Magdalena Bay, Cape San Lucas and Puerto Vallarta on the Mexican coast before heading for Tahiti. Cook said they will go skin diving, surfing and fishing.

Tunney's Son Seeks Office

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — Gene Tunney's son, John V. Tunney, says he plans to seek Democratic nomination to Congress from California's 38th District.

The seat is held by Rep. Pat Minor Martin, a Republican.

The elder Tunney, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, told a party in his honor at Palm Springs: "I want nothing except that you nominate and elect my son to Congress."

John, 29, an attorney, lives at Riversite.

Former Speaker In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Capitol physician reports that former House Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts is recovering from a "touch of virus" that sent him to the hospital by ambulance.

Dr. George W. Calver said Martin, 79, was doing well.

Martin's aides said he will stay in the hospital another day or two as a precaution.

Four Men, Two Boys Board Trimaran For Year's Cruise

REDONDO BEACH (AP)—Four men and two boys a 38-foot sailing trimaran are at sea today on the first leg of a year-long cruise.

Their goal? Strickly pleasure.

The skipper, Leon Cook, 43, of Monterey Park, said his two sons, Billy, 11, and Robert, 9, have permission to miss a year of school.

A crew member, Bill Pevy, 27, of Long Beach, will act as their teacher during the trip. Other crew members are Jerry Eaton, 23, of Redondo Beach and Syd Thompson, 27, of Dunnville, Ontario, Canada.

Cook said the three-hulled boat is loaded with 10 tons of stores, 100 gallons of water and 20 gallons of gasoline for an outboard motor. He said the vessel took three years to build.

The boat, named the Greyhound, will stop at Magdalena Bay, Cape San Lucas and Puerto Vallarta on the Mexican coast before heading for Tahiti. Cook said they will go skin diving, surfing and fishing.

Fire Damages Old Home In Sausalito

Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry described damage to the living room, outside wall and attic as "major."

The house at 583 Bridgeway is one of two identical frame, shingled homes and is occupied by Leon Zecha, a sandalmaker and his shop, the Chappell.

Firemen said Zecha had apparently "overbanked" the fireplace with fuel to keep warm, since the gasoline heater was not working.

Zecha said he lost some personal effects but saved his sandalmaking equipment and leather and will be open for business in the twin red-shingled house next door at 579 Bridgeway. He said for the time being he plans to stay at the home of Juanita Musson.

Zecha said owner Luther Rohrs had told him the houses were there "when Bridgeway was just a cow path."

Remaining committee members will tour the Sunny Hills site Saturday. The full committee will meet at the faculty room of Isabel Cook School Jan. 8 at 8 p.m.

vinced there were "quite a number" of issues on which there may be reasonable prospects for agreement in 1964 and listed them in this order of importance:

—Reduction in the armed forces.

—Check military spending.

—A non-agression pact between NATO and the Warsaw powers.

—Agreement of non-proliferation of nuclear weapons.

—Establishment of denuclearized zones.

The lowest priority was given to a German peace settlement and an "agreement on the normalization of the situation in West Berlin." No reference was made to the frequently expressed Soviet demand for a peace treaty nor was there any deadline for a settlement. But he cautioned "it would be unwise and I would say dangerous to put this matter off for future years."

Distress Signal Off Duxbury Reef Labeled Mystery

A distress signal, which flashed briefly from Duxbury Reef off Bolinas Beach and then disappeared last night, still remained a mystery today.

Sgt. Kenneth Irving of the sheriff's office said Deputy Jack Santos was notified about the flashing signal about 6:45 p.m. Santos said he saw the figure of a man with a flashlight on the reef but the flashlight went out.

A Coast Guard helicopter searched the area for two and one-half hours but found no one on the reef.

"There has been no report of anyone missing, and no cars in the area," Sergeant Irving reported. He said the man probably made it to shore safely and drove away.

State PUC Approves PG&E Refund

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities Commission today approved a refund by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of $10 to $12 for its average household customer.

William Bennett, president of the commission, said the total amount was $44,396,540. He said the refunds will show on customers' February bills.

The refund is in addition to a $15.1 million dollars which was passed on to PG&E customers last August. This amounts to an average of about $4.50 per customer.

The refunds resulted from an eight-year-long fight against rate increases of El Paso Natural Gas Co., which supplies California with more than 75 per cent of its gas.

The August refund represented PG&E's portion of a 30 million dollar refund, and the new refund is PG&E's share of a 96 million dollar refund recently negotiated to end the dispute.

and spent 1 million dollars renovating the 37-year-old structure, said "the hotel was as fireproof as you can get a building. It is a sad thing that those people didn't stay in their rooms.

"The smoke just built up and people panicked," Johnson said.

A woman who plunged to death when a improvised rope of sheets and blankets broke was indentified as Mrs. Marian F. Curry, 43, of Santiago, Chili, and formerly of Greenshore, N.C.

Chief Fire Marshal E. C. McDermon said asphyxiation caused most of the deaths. He said evidence indicated the blaze began in or near the Emerald Room, a few steps up from the main lobby.

Flames were confined to below the third floor.

Many of the 479 transient and 20 permanent guests were in night clothing or only partly dressed when the fire was first reported at 7:45 a.m.

Trapped guests leaned from windows to escape the smoke and pleaded for rescue. Some fell back or across window sills, unconscious.

Art Fielden, Miami public relations man with the Miss America entourage, and his two sons, Bill, 19, and Mark, 16, were on the 10th floor of the hotel across the hall from the suite of Miss Axum.

Fielden said he and his sons went to her room. They found the door locked. Bill knocked the door down.

Bill found Miss Axum leaning from a window and her chaperone, Miss Previti, 39, of Linwood, N. J., lying semi-conscious on the floor.

"I carried Miss Previti to our room and gave her artificial respiration," Bill said. Miss Axum followed them to the Fielden suite, where ventalation was better, and from there they were later escorted to safety by firemen.

Fire Damages Old Home In Sausalito

Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry described damage to the living room, outside wall and attic as "major."

The house at 583 Bridgeway is one of two identical frame, shingled homes and is occupied by Leon Zecha, a sandalmaker and his shop, the Chappell.

Firemen said Zecha had apparently "overbanked" the fireplace with fuel to keep warm, since the gasoline heater was not working.

Zecha said he lost some personal effects but saved his sandalmaking equipment and leather and will be open for business in the twin red-shingled house next door at 579 Bridgeway. He said for the time being he plans to stay at the home of Juanita Musson.

Zecha said owner Luther Rohrs had told him the houses were there "when Bridgeway was just a cow path."

vinced there were "quite a number" of issues on which there may be reasonable prospects for agreement in 1964 and listed them in this order of importance:

—Reduction in the armed forces.

—Check military spending.

—A non-agression pact between NATO and the Warsaw powers.

—Agreement of non-proliferation of nuclear weapons.

—Establishment of denuclearized zones.

The lowest priority was given to a German peace settlement and an "agreement on the normalization of the situation in West Berlin." No reference was made to the frequently expressed Soviet demand for a peace treaty nor was there any deadline for a settlement. But he cautioned "it would be unwise and I would say dangerous to put this matter off for future years."

Distress Signal Off Duxbury Reef Labeled Mystery

A distress signal, which flashed briefly from Duxbury Reef off Bolinas Beach and then disappeared last night, still remained a mystery today.

Sgt. Kenneth Irving of the sheriff's office said Deputy Jack Santos was notified about the flashing signal about 6:45 p.m. Santos said he saw the figure of a man with a flashlight on the reef but the flashlight went out.

A Coast Guard helicopter searched the area for two and one-half hours but found no one on the reef.

"There has been no report of anyone missing, and no cars in the area," Sergeant Irving reported. He said the man probably made it to shore safely and drove away.

State PUC Approves PG&E Refund

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities Commission today approved a refund by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of $10 to $12 for its average household customer.

William Bennett, president of the commission, said the total amount was $44,396,540. He said the refunds will show on customers' February bills.

The refund is in addition to a $15.1 million dollars which was passed on to PG&E customers last August. This amounts to an average of about $4.50 per customer.

The refunds resulted from an eight-year-long fight against rate increases of El Paso Natural Gas Co., which supplies California with more than 75 per cent of its gas.

The August refund represented PG&E's portion of a 30 million dollar refund, and the new refund is PG&E's share of a 96 million dollar refund recently negotiated to end the dispute.

and spent 1 million dollars renovating the 37-year-old structure, said "the hotel was as fireproof as you can get a building. It is a sad thing that those people didn't stay in their rooms.

"The smoke just built up and people panicked," Johnson said.

A woman who plunged to death when a improvised rope of sheets and blankets broke was indentified as Mrs. Marian F. Curry, 43, of Santiago, Chili, and formerly of Greenshore, N.C.

Chief Fire Marshal E. C. McDermon said asphyxiation caused most of the deaths. He said evidence indicated the blaze began in or near the Emerald Room, a few steps up from the main lobby.

Flames were confined to below the third floor.

Many of the 479 transient and 20 permanent guests were in night clothing or only partly dressed when the fire was first reported at 7:45 a.m.

Trapped guests leaned from windows to escape the smoke and pleaded for rescue. Some fell back or across window sills, unconscious.

Art Fielden, Miami public relations man with the Miss America entourage, and his two sons, Bill, 19, and Mark, 16, were on the 10th floor of the hotel across the hall from the suite of Miss Axum.

Fielden said he and his sons went to her room. They found the door locked. Bill knocked the door down.

Bill found Miss Axum leaning from a window and her chaperone, Miss Previti, 39, of Linwood, N. J., lying semiconscious on the floor.

"I carried Miss Previti to our room and gave her artificial respiration," Bill said. Miss Axum followed them to the Fielden suite, where ventalation was better, and from there they were later escorted to safety by firemen.

EX-SAUSALITAN VISITS MARIN

Business In Bahamas Booms, Sugarman Says

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Business is booming in the Bahamas, Dr. George Sugarman, former Sausalitan, said today.

Sugarman, visiting Sausalito during the holidays with his wife, Lillian, is director of the Executive Management Institute at Nassau, capital of the Bahamas. He is en route to a two-month stay in Hawaii and the South Pacific to conduct seminars.

While living in Sausalito from 1959 through 1961, Sugarman taught the same management courses he now teaches in the Caribbean in the College of Marin adult department. He also was active as chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Sausalito.

"The Bahamas has a lovely, booming economy and the Caribbean, with exception of British Guiana, Haita and Cuba, is a wonderland," said Sugarman. Many hotels are going up and tourism, one of the main industries, has increased 10-fold in the past several years, he reported.

Sugarman said the Caribbean in general appears very much like Marin County, having eucalyptus trees growing alongside of palm trees just as in Marin.

"Lying around on the beach and sipping rum is for tourists and vacationers, however," Sugarman said. "Local people work very hard and energetically for their livelihoods.

"And the communities, even on the smallest islands, are quite structured. You find chambers of commerce, Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis, the P-TA and the supermarket more and more."

Sugarman said that Carl Urbutt, former Sausalitan, now a resident of Nassau, is very active in civic organizations.

Sugarman's work, which he calls a mobile institute since it stretches over a large area, consists of presenting what he calls executive development seminars and supervisory training programs to managers and leaders of government, industry, agriculture, and private institutions throughout the Caribbean and Latin America. This year, he said, he divided his time among Puerto Rico, Jamaica, the Bahamas, Barbados and the U. S. Virgin Islands.

Sugarman, who spent five years in Venezuela before living in Sausalito, teaches in English and Spanish.

He commented on movements in most of the islands toward "so-called independence," particularly on the part of the "have-nots" who constitute the masses.

"This is inspired by the fact that last year Trinidad and Jamaica went independent and so many African colonies have also become independent," Sugarman said. He believes, however, that groups in the West Indies are mistaken to equate themselves with Africans.

In the West Indies, he said, people have enjoyed complete liberty and a great many benefits that being associated with Great Britain provides. Also, Great Britain takes care of external and internal security of the islands.

On Jan. 1 the Bahamas will come under a new constitution which permits Bahamians to "almost 100 per cent" determine their own affairs while still enjoying the security afforded by Great Britain's armed forces, he noted.

Sugarman mentioned that in Caribbean countries are refugees from British Guiana and Cuba as well as Haiti, the former countries being Communist-dominated and the latter being run by a voodooist and militaristic dictatorship.

He said life on the islands came to a standstill on the announcement of President John F. Kennedy's death. "Even the most humble peasant sought out Americans to share condolences."

The Sugermans, admirers and collectors of art, have loaned to College of Marin 12 Don Quixote paintings by Genovese artist Antonio Traverso.

Building Pace Sagged Last Month

The building pace in Marin sagged last month with valuation in building permits issued dropping to $4,245,441 — 46 per cent below the total for November, 1962.

The Marin County Development Assn., which compiled the building totals, concluded that the drop was probably due, at least in part, to the big building activity in October when total value of permits issued was $9,001,216.

Despite the drop, total building pace for 1963 continued well ahead of 1962. The 11-month total for this year stands at $82,884,736. In 1962, the total after 11 months was $66,353,204. This puts 1963 building activity 24.9 per cent ahead of 1962.

Busiest community for building last month was San Rafael with a total valuation of $1,255,863 on permits issued. Novato was second with $342,990 and Larkspur third with $277,903.

In unincorporated areas, the Tiburon Peninsula was the most active with a total valuation of $242,000.

In both incorporated and unincorporated areas there were a total of 155 permits for residential construction and 12 permits for commercial buildings during November.

Radio Corp. Of America Hits High

Sales and profits of the Radio Corp. of America in 1963 achieved all-time high for the second consecutive year, chairman David Sarnoff has announced in a year-end statement.

Subject to final audit, RCA's 1963 sales will be approximately $1,780,000,000, with operating profit after taxes about 65 million dollars, he said. Profits from operations in 1963 increased 25 per cent, and gross income increased 2 per cent over 1962.

Earnings per common share for the year will be $3.55 to $3.60, compared with the 1962 figure of $2.84.

Looking to 1964, the RCA chairman predicted a year of "economic advance and heightened business activity in both domestic and foreign markets." He said the most vigorous single growth product next year will be color television, with electronic data processing as its nearest rival.

Santa Fe To Expand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Santa Fe Railway's 1964 investment in new cars and engines will be almost 100 million dollars. The firm said it plans to add 4,800 freight cars and about 50 diesel locomotives.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Armour Star Royal Seal Products Distributorship Opened In Marin

Newly opened at 1353 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael (Lincoln-Maple Building) is Food Merchandisers Corp., incorporated last month by a group of San Francisco businessmen.

It will be listed in the next telephone book as a food brokerage firm, but its main purpose for the time being is to set up distributorships for Armour Star Royal Seal products, for which it holds a national franchise. Bay Area distributors will be appointed first, then others for the rest of the country. This will be the head office. Other non-conflicting accounts may be handled later.

Two Marin men are in charge of the operation: Hal Fenton of San Rafael, general manager, and Duane C. Ragan of San Anselmo, sales manager. Both were formerly with Luchetti Meat Co., San Francisco—Fenton as general manager and Ragan as sales manager of the food division.

TWO MARIN RESIDENTS have beeen elected vice presi-

O. D. Oliphant F. J. Sieve

dents of Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. They are Russell Pierce of Kentfield and O. D. Oliphant of Novato.

Pierce will assume nationwide direction of ocean marine insurance. Oliphant assumes responsibility for production, underwriting and claims in the company's regional territory, which covers 13 western states, including Alaska and Hawaii.

Russell Pierce

F. J. SIEVE of Novato, sales representative for IBM Corp. in Marin, has qualified for the firm's "One-Hundred Per cent Club" by selling his quota of IBM electric typewriters and dictating equipment. He has been a salesman with the company for seven years.

THE NEW Mission-Union Building of Dreyer-Wilson Co. in San Rafael that you saw sketched on this page last Friday was designed for the businessman who doesn't spend much time behind a desk, needs only modest quarters and a rental to match. Offices, however, will be attractive, have carpeting and drapes and air conditioning.

CONNIE MANNING, owner of Lighthouse Trading Post in Forest Knolls, has bought out the entire contents of another antique shop—this one in the Mother Lode country. It is Swindell's Little Girls Museum and Antique Shop in Jamestown, about four miles this side of Sonora.

The "Little Girls Museum" part refers to a rare collection of antique dolls and equipment. Other stock includes early American, French and Victorian furniture and artifacts of the area. Even the store is something of an antique — an old Wells Fargo stagecoach stop. Now it's a port of call for tourists.

Mrs. Manning will keep it open Thursdays through Sundays. The Forest Knolls shop will be held open only on Sundays.

REALTY BROKER Dora Solvason who had her offices on Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo has moved to new quarters at 645 Tamalpais Avenue, Corte Madera. This is the modern building cluster known as Sanford Center.

SMITHS CLOTHIERS of Oakland will open its 14th store in Northern California next October. It will be located in the Southland Shopping Center, Hayward.

The firm has its Marin store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center. Store number 13 is scheduled for an opening in Santa Rosa next March.

DID YOU NOTICE the increased number of teen-age boys and girls in the stores this year during Christmas shopping?

Some of it perhaps was for themselves. The Census Bureau reports that teen-age students, from 15 to 19 years of age, are expected to have a 44-per-cent increase in numbers over the decade from 1960 to 1970. Each of them now spends an average of $200 a year on clothing, picking out his or her own. Their spending power, it is predicted, will reach 21 million dollars in 1970. Many merchandising trends are being slanted toward this market.

Land Subsidiary Changes Name

OAKLAND (AP) — Transamerica Development Co. will be the new name, starting Jan. 1, of Capital Co., the real estate subsidiary of Transamerica Corp.

Capital Co. has large holdings in California, Arizona and Colorado. It engages in development, construction, management and sales of real estate.

It also leases, explores and operates oil and gas properties in California, Oregon, Nevada, Washington, New Mexico, Wyoming, North Dakota, Oklahoma and Texas.

Mart Closes Mixed During Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today with some of the wide-moving issues jumping ahead near the close. Trading was fairly active.

The list was uneven for practically the entire session although there was a short-lived attempt to push upward during the morning.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.7 million shares compared with 4.39 million Friday.

Most prices changes were fractional. Relatively few key issues showed gains or losses of a point or more. As usual, there were exceptions among the wide-moving issues. IBM was ahead about 5 and Xerox up around 2.

Practically every major section of the market reflected the uneven picture. Most groups showed a few leaders up a fraction and the others off fractions.

There was considerably buying in a number of low-priced issues which appealed to bargain hunters. Brunswick, the most active stock the last two sessions, maintained its busy pace and was ahead fractionally.

Others in the low-priced active category included American Machine and Foundry, Fairbanks Whitney, American Photocopy and Colorado Fuel and Iron.

Chrysler experienced further profit taking, down about a point after last week's loss of almost 5.

The drug section was mostly higher with Upjohn, Schering and Merck pushing ahead a point or so.

Steels and motors, outside Chrysler, moved small fractions in both directions.

Du Pont was off almost 3. Kodak, ex-dividend, was up slightly but its ex-dividend status dragged the averages downward.

Auto Sales Hit All-Time High

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry has rung up all-time high sales of 7.5 million new cars, Ward's Automotive Reports has announced.

This topped the previous mark of 7,460,000 established in 1955.

The new record, however, is the result of more foreign cars being sold.

Sales of domestic cars in 1963 totaled 7,127,000 as against 7,408,000 in 1955, Ward's said.

Record Fire Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's fire losses this year are expected to reach a record 1.4 billion dollars and 11 and one-half per cent higher than last year. The estimate was made by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, an insurance group.

EX-SAUSALITAN VISITS MARIN

Business In Bahamas Booms, Sugarman Says

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Business is booming in the Bahamas, Dr. George Sugarman, former Sausalitan, said today.

Sugarman, visiting Sausalito during the holidays with his wife, Lillian, is director of the Executive Management Institute at Nassau, capital of the Bahamas. He is en route to a two-month stay in Hawaii and the South Pacific to conduct seminars.

While living in Sausalito from 1959 through 1961, Sugarman taught the same management courses he now teaches in the Caribbean in the College of Marin adult department. He also was active as chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Sausalito.

"The Bahamas has a lovely, booming economy and the Caribbean, with exception of British Guiana, Haita and Cuba, is a wonderland," said Sugarman. Many hotels are going up and tourism, one of the main industries, has increased 10-fold in the past several years, he reported.

Sugarman said the Caribbean in general appears very much like Marin County, having eucalyptus trees growing alongside of palm trees just as in Marin.

"Lying around on the beach and sipping rum is for tourists and vacationers, however," Sugarman said. "Local people work very hard and energetically for their livelihoods.

"And the communities, even on the smallest islands, are quite structured. You find chambers of commerce, Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis, the P-TA and the supermarket more and more."

Sugarman said that Carl Urbutt, former Sausalitan, now a resident of Nassau, is very active in civic organizations.

Sugarman's work, which he calls a mobile institute since it stretches over a large area, consists of presenting what he calls executive development seminars and supervisory training programs to managers and leaders of government, industry, agriculture, and private institutions throughout the Caribbean and Latin America. This year, he said, he divided his time among Puerto Rico, Jamaica, the Bahamas, Barbados and the U. S. Virgin Islands.

Sugarman, who spent five years in Venezuela before living in Sausalito, teaches in English and Spanish.

He commented on movements in most of the islands toward "so-called independence," particularly on the part of the "have-nots" who constitute the masses.

"This is inspired by the fact that last year Trinidad and Jamaica went independent and so many African colonies have also become independent," Sugarman said. He believes, however, that groups in the West Indies are mistaken to equate themselves with Africans.

In the West Indies, he said, people have enjoyed complete liberty and a great many benefits that being associated with Great Britain provides. Also, Great Britain takes care of external and internal security of the islands.

On Jan. 1 the Bahamas will come under a new constitution which permits Bahamians to "almost 100 per cent" determine their own affairs while still enjoying the security afforded by Great Britain's armed forces, he noted.

Sugarman mentioned that in Caribbean countries are refugees from British Guiana and Cuba as well as Haiti, the former countries being Communist-dominated and the latter being run by a voodooist and militaristic dictatorship.

He said life on the islands came to a standstill on the announcement of President John F. Kennedy's death. "Even the most humble peasant sought out Americans to share condolences."

The Sugermans, admirers and collectors of art, have loaned to College of Marin 12 Don Quixote paintings by Genovese artist Antonio Traverso.

Building Pace Sagged Last Month

The building pace in Marin sagged last month with valuation in building permits issued dropping to $4,245,441 — 46 per cent below the total for November, 1962.

The Marin County Development Assn., which compiled the building totals, concluded that the drop was probably due, at least in part, to the big building activity in October when total value of permits issued was $9,001,216.

Despite the drop, total building pace for 1963 continued well ahead of 1962. The 11-month total for this year stands at $82,884,736. In 1962, the total after 11 months was $66,353,204. This puts 1963 building activity 24.9 per cent ahead of 1962.

Busiest community for building last month was San Rafael with a total valuation of $1,255,863 on permits issued. Novato was second with $342,990 and Larkspur third with $277,903.

In unincorporated areas, the Tiburon Peninsula was the most active with a total valuation of $242,000.

In both incorporated and unincorporated areas there were a total of 155 permits for residential construction and 12 permits for commercial buildings during November.

Radio Corp. Of America Hits High

Sales and profits of the Radio Corp. of America in 1963 achieved all-time high for the second consecutive year, chairman David Sarnoff has announced in a year-end statement.

Subject to final audit, RCA's 1963 sales will be approximately $1,780,000,000, with operating profit after taxes about 65 million dollars, he said. Profits from operations in 1963 increased 25 per cent, and gross income increased 2 per cent over 1962.

Earnings per common share for the year will be $3.55 to $3.60, compared with the 1962 figure of $2.84.

Looking to 1964, the RCA chairman predicted a year of "economic advance and heightened business activity in both domestic and foreign markets." He said the most vigorous single growth product next year will be color television, with electronic data processing as its nearest rival.

Santa Fe To Expand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Santa Fe Railway's 1964 investment in new cars and engines will be almost 100 million dollars. The firm said it plans to add 4,800 freight cars and about 50 diesel locomotives.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Newly opened at 1353 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael (Lincoln-Maple Building) is Food Merchandisers Corp., incorporated last month by a group of San Francisco businessmen.

It will be listed in the next telephone book as a food brokerage firm, but its main purpose for the time being is to set up distributorships for Armour Star Royal Seal products, for which it holds a national franchise. Bay Area distributors will be appointed first, then others for the rest of the country. This will be the head office. Other non-conflicting accounts may be handled later.

Two Marin men are in charge of the operation: Hal Fenton of San Rafael, general manager, and Duane C. Ragan of San Anselmo, sales manager. Both were formerly with Luchetti Meat Co., San Francisco—Fenton as general manager and Ragan as sales manager of the food division.

TWO MARIN RESIDENTS have beeen elected vice presidents of Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. They are Russell Pierce of Kentfield and O. D. Oliphant of Novato.

Pierce will assume nationwide direction of ocean marine insurance. Oliphant assumes responsibility for production, underwriting and claims in the company's regional territory, which covers 13 western states, including Alaska and Hawaii.

Russell Pierce

F. J. SIEVE of Novato, sales representative for IBM Corp. in Marin, has qualified for the firm's "One-Hundred Per cent Club" by selling his quota of IBM electric typewriters and dictating equipment. He has been a salesman with the company for seven years.

THE NEW Mission-Union Building of Dreyer-Wilson Co. in San Rafael that you saw sketched on this page last Friday was designed for the businessman who doesn't spend much time behind a desk, needs only modest quarters and a rental to match. Offices, however, will be attractive, have carpeting and drapes and air conditioning.

CONNIE MANNING, owner of Lighthouse Trading Post in Forest Knolls, has bought out the entire contents of another antique shop—this one in the Mother Lode country. It is Swindell's Little Girls Museum and Antique Shop in Jamestown, about four miles this side of Sonora.

The "Little Girls Museum" part refers to a rare collection of antique dolls and equipment. Other stock includes early American, French and Victorian furniture and artifacts of the area. Even the store is something of an antique — an old Wells Fargo stagecoach stop. Now it's a port of call for tourists.

Mrs. Manning will keep it open Thursdays through Sundays. The Forest Knolls shop will be held open only on Sundays.

REALTY BROKER Dora Solvason who had her offices on Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo has moved to new quarters at 645 Tamalpais Avenue, Corte Madera. This is the modern building cluster known as Sanford Center.

SMITHS CLOTHIERS of Oakland will open its 14th store in Northern California next October. It will be located in the Southland Shopping Center, Hayward.

The firm has its Marin store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center. Store number 13 is scheduled for an opening in Santa Rosa next March.

DID YOU NOTICE the increased number of teen-age boys and girls in the stores this year during Christmas shopping?

Some of it perhaps was for themselves. The Census Bureau reports that teen-age students, from 15 to 19 years of age, are expected to have a 44-per-cent increase in numbers over the decade from 1960 to 1970. Each of them now spends an average of $200 a year on clothing, picking out his or her own. Their spending power, it is predicted, will reach 21 million dollars in 1970. Many merchandising trends are being slanted toward this market.

Land Subsidiary Changes Name

OAKLAND (AP) — Transamerica Development Co. will be the new name, starting Jan. 1, of Capital Co., the real estate subsidiary of Transamerica Corp.

Capital Co. has large holdings in California, Arizona and Colorado. It engages in development, construction, management and sales of real estate.

It also leases, explores and operates oil and gas properties in California, Oregon, Nevada, Washington, New Mexico, Wyoming, North Dakota, Oklahoma and Texas.

Mart Closes Mixed During Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today with some of the wide-moving issues jumping ahead near the close. Trading was fairly active.

The list was uneven for practically the entire session although there was a short-lived attempt to push upward during the morning.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.7 million shares compared with 4.39 million Friday.

Most prices changes were fractional. Relatively few key issues showed gains or losses of a point or more. As usual, there were exceptions among the wide-moving issues. IBM was ahead about 5 and Xerox up around 2.

Practically every major section of the market reflected the uneven picture. Most groups showed a few leaders up a fraction and the others off fractions.

There was considerably buying in a number of low-priced issues which appealed to bargain hunters. Brunswick, the most active stock the last two sessions, maintained its busy pace and was ahead fractionally.

Others in the low-priced active category included American Machine and Foundry, Fairbanks Whitney, American Photocopy and Colorado Fuel and Iron.

Chrysler experienced further profit taking, down about a point after last week's loss of almost 5.

The drug section was mostly higher with Upjohn, Schering and Merck pushing ahead a point or so.

Steels and motors, outside Chrysler, moved small fractions in both directions.

Du Pont was off almost 3. Kodak , ex-dividend, was up slightly but its ex-dividend status dragged the averages downward.

Prices continued mixed on the American Stock Exchange in comparatively heavy dealings.

Auto Sales Hit All-Time High

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry has rung up all-time high sales of 7.5 million new cars, Ward's Automotive Reports has announced.

This topped the previous mark of 7,460,000 established in 1955.

The new record, however, is the result of more foreign cars being sold.

Sales of domestic cars in 1963 totaled 7,127,000 as against 7,408,000 in 1955, Ward's said.

'RETIRE? NOT ME!'

Porter, 72, Winds Up Career At Hospital

By ROSS DAVIS

A white-haired, lovable little man will retire tomorrow after devoted porter work in Marin General Hospital's surgical room since the institution began.

At 72, he can now relax in a big, soft armchair, wriggle his toes at the television set, and day-dream to his heart's content—all the things that retirement can mean after a long life of hard work.

Only he wants no part of it.

He doesn't want to relax daytimes in any chair at all; he gets enough TV between supper and bedtime; and day-dreaming is for old men and young children.

"I'd like to get a part-time job," said Ben Tollefson, reluctantly dismissed by the hospital because of his age, "or a full-time job. Sitting around is no good for me."

Tollefson, who resides at Golden Gate Trailer Court, 2000 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, hopes any prospective employer won't hold the time he skipped work because of illness last year against him.

"I missed one and a half hours one day (during the entire year)," he confessed. "I had a cold and a headache and they told me to go home early."

Otherwise, the reckons his record is clean and his health good.

Tollefson is far from unappreciative of the hospital. It permitted him to work seven years past the age limit of 65. But it has been his life since the institution started in may of 1952, and he's a man who hasn't a single hobby and few outside interests.

He doesn't like gardening and he doesn't own a fishing rod or checkerboard.

He does have a mighty fine wife, however. Mabel, who knows a bit about being retired, herself, also worked for Marin General Hospital until she reached 65 at last year's end.

As a seamstress there, patching sheets and sewing gowns, she simply turned her talents to sewing at home. She makes quilts and clothing; she said her times is well-filled with work and interests. So Tollefson may have to adjust to his particular vacuum of retirement alone.

"Tell the doctors how much I thank them, and Miss Lombardi," he urged, tearful-eyed with memories. "Thank them for me."

What he didn't know then was he could soon thank the surgery group collectively and personally. Miss Vittarina Lombardi, supervisor of the operating room, had a warm-hearted reception for Tollefson yesterday at her home on Railroad Avenue, Woodacre.

WELCOME TO RETIREMENT—Ben Tollefson is a year behind his wife Mabel in retirement, so he'll have the advantage of her understanding a few of the problems it may involve. Skeptical that a workless life will suit him, at least he was pleased momentarily at her gesture of helping him with his bedroom slippers.

Shoots Himself In 'Fast Draw'

A San Francisco radio station executive shot himself in the leg yesterday while practicing a "fast draw" at a Santa Venetia target range.

Kenneth Leslie, 50, of 1048 Los Gamos Road, Terra Linda, told Marin sheriff's deputies he was attempting to draw his .22-caliber Magnum pistol when his finger slipped and the gun went off.

Criticism Of Udall Water Plan Grows

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.) has joined Arizona Gov. Paul Fannin in strong criticism of the Interior Department.

Both are up in arms over a revised edition of the Pacific Southwest water plan proposed by Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, also an Arizonan.

And both have accused Udall's undersecretary, James K. Carr, of serving as a special department representative of his home state, California.

The water plan was designed by Udall in an effort to satisfy the water needs of five states. Governors of the five made their comments last month, and copies of the revised plan were circulated to them last Thursday.

Hayden and Arizona's Republican governor said the revised plan makes no endorsement of a bill now pending to authorize the billion dollar Central Arizona Project which would bring Colorado River water to arid parts of Arizona.

ASTRONAUTS SELL MOTEL INTEREST

Each Of Eight Got $6,000 Profit; Stock Dropped Because Of Criticism

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The nation's seven original astronauts have sold their interest in a luxury motel near Cape Kennedy, nearly doubling their money, their attorney reported today.

C. Leo DeOrsey, the lawyer, said he and the astronauts originally invested more than $100,000 in the 1.6-million-dollar Cape Colony Inn and Convention Hall in Cocoa Beach. Each astronaut invested about $7,500 and the remainder was his, DeOrsey reported.

He said the eight sold their shares to the motel's majority W. T. Rose, on Dec. 18. He did not disclose the full selling price but said each of the astronauts received $13,500 for their stock.

The motel opened June 1, 1962.

DeOrsey indicated the decision to sell stemmed from newspaper and magazine criticism of the astronauts' involvment in a commercial venture near the Cape Kennedy rocket launching base.

He termed the press criticism unfounded.

Cat Returns Home After Four Years

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — Danny, the Persian cat, has come home after an absence of four years. He disappeared in 1960, and suddenly showed up again.

"He comes in morning, noon and night and has settled down as if he'd never been gone," says Mrs. C. Howard Ball.

"I'd give anything to know what he's been doing these four years."

Law Segregation Hit By Wirtz

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz says the law profession is "the worst integrated and worst segregated group in our society."

Wirtz told the convention of Assn. of American Law Schools last night that a recent survey showed that only 35 major law firms in the nation are integrated.

He said the Negro attorney's chance of getting into a good law firm "exceed only that of female and poorly groomed applicants."

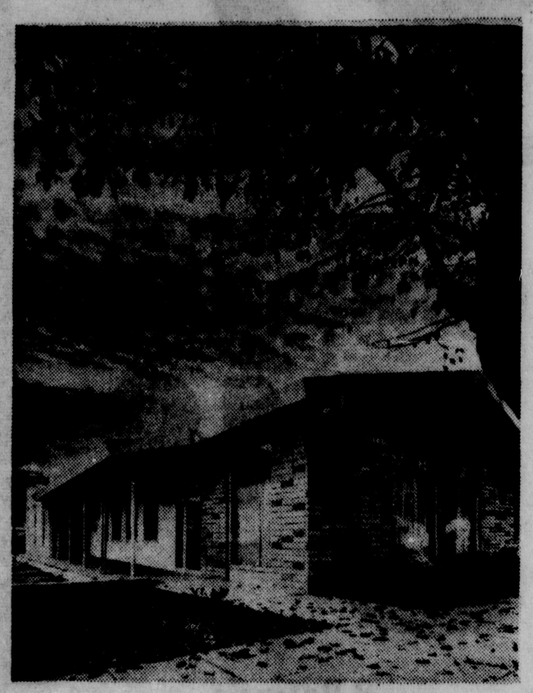

Hub Driver Hurt In Corte Madera Crash

Peter Baptist Maggi, 56, of 2 Bridge Avenue, San Anselmo, was to see a private doctor for treatment of minor injuries after he was involved in a two-car accident on Paradise Drive, 50 feet south of Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, at 7 p.m. Friday.

The driver of the other car, Edward Howard Kuykendall, 19, of 11 Circle Drive, Tiburon, was cited by Corte Madera Police for crossing the double line and failure to stop at the scene of the accident.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

10 EDITORIAL PAGE . Monday, Dec. 30, 1963 San Rafael, Calif.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Mill Valley Library Bonds Are A Top 1964 Project

One of the important local jobs in Marin County for the year 1964 will be to push through a Mill Valley library bond issue. We trust that two previous failures won't deter the loyal library boosters whose spirits were recently raised by successful achievement of their site project.

When Frederick Thompson of Stinson Beach signed the deed release as last of three heirs to approve (all being brothers of novelist Kathleen Norris), the way was cleared for use of the north portion of Old Mill Park as a most charming place to put a new library. Thompson's son and daughter had already signed in recognition of the spiritual and physical appropriateness of this plan.

But as Mrs. John P. Farnham, the president of the library board, was prompt to point out, there's a narrow time schedule if there is to be a bond issue vote next April.

No one can say that any dragging of feet is now in evidence despite some earlier opposition. The city council has asked for a cost estimate three weeks hence, on Jan. 20, and it's expected to be available on time although a great deal of research is entailed. Topographical map and soil test studies must both be completed as prerequisites to the preliminary building plans on which the actual cost can be estimated.

But a hurry-up procedure is unavoidable because Feb. 1 is the filing time for placing this issue on the ballot.

We believe there are several good reasons why the third try for a bond issue will succeed in Mill Valley. Foremost of course is the increasing pressure on present facilities which are inadequate, and to some at least inconvenient or at worst inaccessible; yet which are nonetheless providing the finest of atmospheres and services under great handicap.

Here surely is a deserving case for which Mill Valley purses should open.

Of the three sites for which bond issues have been planned, the Old Mill Park is far and away the best in the estimate of many. It's also better than the lumber storage yard for which friends of the library tried without success.

To pass up this wonderful opportunity to place a new library in a truly Mill Valley setting of the most inspired type seems to us unthinkable. Surely the devotion of the many people who have long labored for a solution is to be rewarded by success at last.

White For The Christ Child

That Old World member of the Buttercup Family, the Christmas Rose, is blooming now in some Marin gardens. The blossom resembles a wild rose and it blooms during the holiday season—hence the name.

We like to think it is no accident that this delicate white flower blooms each year about the time of Christ's birthday. More than any other color white symbolizes purity, charity and Christian love of one's fellow man.

We like to think that this white flower for the Christ child's birthday is some kind of special coincidence.

San Anselmo On The Move

Circulation of petitions among businessmen with intent to form a downtown parking district is response to obvious need.

Equally necessary in another way is the project of converting the former Greyhound bus site into a park, preserving the creek and enhancing the area's natural beauty.

There should be room for both park and parking. This will meet two aspects of necessary San Anselmo modernization.

A DYNAMIC PRESIDENT, BUT—

Johnson Can't Find The Time To Write All His Speeches

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)— Lyndon B. Johnson can do more things than most people. He is a ball of fire, a one-man gang.

But he can't find time to write his own speeches, all by himself.

The president's associates have disclosed that Theodore C. Sorensen, who also was speech writer for Pres. John F. Kennedy on occasion, helped Johnson write his first address to Congress.

THIS IS no slam at Johnson. The business of a presidential ghost writer has ancient and honorable antecedents.

For example, Alexander Hamilton had a ghostly hand in the writing of George Washington's famous farewell address.

A president who pays attention to his main job just doesn't have time to make the research and do the word-polishing that a speech requires.

LOTS OF other public officials, and men in private enterprise too, have turned to ghosts to help them with their speeches, and their other writing. Sorensen helped in the research for the book "Profiles in Courage" which Kennedy wrote before he became president.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona provides another example.

After paying thanks to a long list of those for whose help he was grateful, Goldwater said he did the first draft of his book "Why Not Victory?" but added:

"THE WAY I look at it, polishing my prose is not something on which I can spend a lot of time, as enjoyable as that is . . . .

"For the proper expression of the result of that labor, I, for one, depend on those I have mentioned — helpers, ghosts, call them what you will.

"They are an indispensable part of politics and writing."

Sorensen once said of his teamwork with Kennedy:

"I know so well what he wants to say and how he would say it that he and I can't tell where he leaves off and I leave on."

INCIDENTALLY, as for tools of the trade, a visitor to Sorensen's office noted these books on his desk: "A Treasury of Great Speeches," Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations" and "10,000 Jokes and Stories."

A speech has to have more than just style. It has to be delivered well.

As Gen. Hugh Iron Pants Johnson of the Franklin D. Roosevelt era said:

Gross Transactions As Tax Base

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Since my letter of Dec. 18 telling taxpayers how bad our present tax system is and offering a substitute that would cut total taxes paid by a homeowner at least 50 per cent, I have received over 50 telephone calls from business men, homeowners and renters and all in the same general line—they could not understand how I could say there was a way to collect the same amount of revenue and at the same time reduce the tax burden to individual homeowners by 50 per cent. One renter said I was suggesting that the load be shifted from property owners to renters.

It is my hope that you will print this letter with the two following examples, so that your readers and taxpayers can readily understand what a gross transaction tax, such as our association recommends, means to all.

In Marin County we have a property tax base of around $300,000,000 and it takes an 8½ per cent tax levy to raise funds to cover all county budgets — in Marin County there would be a gross transaction tax base of over $700,000,000 and a 3½ per cent tax levy would raise the same sum and an additional 1½ per cent transaction tax levy would raise just as much or more revenue for the state than they are now getting out of Marin County.

First we will take a worker with take-home pay of $600 per month who is purchasing a home, auto, etc. so that not more than $400 of this $600 could be spent for transaction taxable items, there being of course no transaction tax on payments such as these—the transaction tax is only on the final sale—so that a 5 per cent levy on $400 would be $20 a month or $240 total taxes paid for local and state taxes under the gross transaction tax system.

Now this same party is paying at present at least $450 property tax, $20 State income tax, $120 state sales taxes, $20 auto in lieu tax a total tax of some $610 in direct taxes—so there would be an actual cash saving here for this worker and homeowner of $370 or around 40 per cent of his present total taxes.

In addition he would be saving in actual cash some $30 a year he is paying to utility companies to reimburse the taxes they pay and perhaps $200 to reimburse the business people from whom he purchases commodities and services — this would make a total actual cash saving of some $600 over present taxes because if there were no property taxes or State taxes for the utilities and businesses to pay, these charges would not be added to the cost of commodities or services.

Now take the renter—he would be in almost the same position as the above party except that he would be paying a 5 per cent levy on perhaps $500 instead of $400 as in the above case because he would not have the house payment to deduct. At present he is paying his portion of the taxes the owner of a home, duplex or apartment house has to pay— it is added to the rental and if there was no property tax, it would not be added to the rental—so the renter with the same income would be saving $310 a year instead of $310 plus the same utility and business return taxes amounting to $230.

These cases are not the sole benefits — Marin County would benefit some $500,000 because it would do away with the two offices of assessor and tax collector. Furthermore our state economy as a whole would treble in a short time with thousands upon thousands of new jobs being provided. Under such a system the more people you have in our great state, the less percentage this transaction tax levy would be—a long ways from our present system where the ratio of taxation increases some 500 per cent for every 100 per cent increase in population.

Frank Loesser, who composed the great score of "Guys and Dolls" and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," once invented a game that afforded his young daughter considerable amusement.

He would press one of his coat buttons and immediately stick out his tongue, hunch up his shoulders and goggle his eyes. His daughter's task was to push the button above, thereby restoring him to normalcy. One evening Loesser pressed his button according to the accepted formula and his face assumed the proper resemblance to an agitated laughing hyena.

This time, however, the daughter failed to react according to Hoyle. She slipped off his lap, took her mother's hand, and cheerfully suggested, "Let's leave him that way!"

Dick Keller, at NBC, turned down an offer he received in the mail to head up a new Egyptian school for masseurs. "You must have me mixed up with somebody else entirely," replied the justifiably mystified Keller. "This, obviously, is a job for a Cairopractor."

Congress Has To Ask Of Itself 'Who Polices The Policeman?'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans' Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, is completely against any proposed law to compel members of Congress to disclose their incomes and assets.

He gave a very odd reason.

He said he did not come to Congress to be a "second-class citizen."

He didn't say that others who have to reveal their financial interests, like top government officials, are second class.

BUT. Sen. Maurine Neuberger (D-Ore.), pointed out:

When cabinet members and other executive appointments come up for Senate approval, before they can have their new job they are forced to disclose their investments and "we treat them as if we were going to crucify them."

Members of both parties in Congress — particularly Dirksen's fellow-senator from Illinois, Paul Douglas, a Democrat — have repeatedly called on Congress to approve a disclosure law on itself.

So did Dirksen's opposite number, Mike Mansfield of Montana, leader of the Senate Democrats, last week. But Dirksen said "I won't compromise an inch on this."

IT SIFTS DOWN to a case of "who polices the policeman?" since members of Congress vote on measures involving business interests in which many of them have major or minor holdings.

A number of events in recent months, at least one of them sensational, has given added attention to the demands for a disclosure law.

But also involved is the question of ethical conduct, which Congress expects and demands from officials in the executive branch of government.

LAST MONTH Robert G. Baker, who began as a Senate page boy and wound up as secretary to the Senate Democrats with a salary of almost $20,000, quit when his Democratic bosses decided to question him.

This happened when a vending machine company sued him and the press not only found out about it but about a lot of Baker's other financial activities which seemed to extend across the country and down to Haiti.

IN JUNE former Rep. Frank W. Boykin (D-Ala.), and former Rep. Thomas F. Johnson (D-Md.), were convicted on conflict of interest and conspiracy charges in connection with a savings and loan company.

In October Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis.), a member of the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, acknowledged he helped a company get a favorable tax ruling from the government and then invested $2,300 in the company's stock which is now worth $27,000.

More recently a congressional delegation to a NATO meeting in Paris took the head waiter of the House restaurant along as a messenger. Along with them he got a free trip on a military plane and he had most of his hotel and meals paid overseas out of counterpart funds.

Rusk May Use Blank Check That Johnson Gave Him

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — That blank check President Johnson gave Secretary Rusk to determine the course of foreign policy is going to be used—if he doesn't watch out!

The State Department high command, making the most of this exceptional opportunity, is busily preparing a series of speeches and pronouncements designed, in effect, to commit the new president to far-reaching policies in virtually every key trouble spot in the world.

These policies include highly explosive portions of the late President Kennedy's "grand design" in foreign policy — which have never been spelled out in public. There have been guarded references to them, but that's all.

LAST WEEK'S address by Roger Hilsman, Jr., Assistant Secretary for Far Eastern Affairs, enunciating a so-called "open door" attitude toward Red China if it discards "venomous hatreds" against the U. S., was the first move in this State Department plan.

Along the same lines as Hilsman's revealing declaration, other top State Department officials will proclaim equally important stands regarding Russia, its Eastern European satellites, Asia, the Middle East, Africa and France.

The next of these tentatively slated momentous speeches will be made by Undersecretary Averell Harriman on a crucial shift in policy toward the Soviet bloc.

THE NEW COURSE Harriman will launch will be summed up as follows:

"The ultimate (U. S.) aim is to see that these nations of Eastern Europe eventually become members of the free community of nations by a process of peaceful evolution."

Harriman has become Rusk's closest adviser on Eureopen affairs. Principal progenitor of the above concept, in which Harriman heartily concurs, is Dr. Walt Rostow, head of the State Department Policy Planning Council and author of a series of "position papers" approved by the National Security Council in the Kennedy administration.

Like Assistant Secretary Hilsman's "open door" statement regarding Red China, Undersecretary Harriman's address next month on policy toward the Iron Curtain satellites will vigorously advocate a "realistic view."

Presumably such a "view" will include East Germany—which the U. S. does not recognize.

TWO KEY points of this "realistic view" are:

"The U. S. will refrain from encouraging or supporting uprisings or strikes that exert pressure against Communist regimes."

"Widening of diplomatic, cultural and trade relations and contacts with Eastern European countries."

REP. Fred Rooney, 37-year-old bachelor who succeeded to the seat of the late Rep. Francis Walter, (D-Pa.), longtime chairman of the Committee on Un-American Activities, is being boosted as the party's senatorial choice next year. Democratic State Chairman Otis Morse is saying that Rooney's impressive showing in the special election to succeed Walter makes him a contender for the Senate . . . .

SEN. "Ted" Kennedy, (D-Mass.), is a multi-millionaire, thanks to trust funds bestowed on him by his father, former Ambassador to Britain, but that isn't keeping him from collecting sizeable amounts of campaign funds. He has already amassed more money than some senators spend in their entire campaigns. According to an official report filed by young Kennedy, from October 1 to October 15, he received $65,000 in contributions for his re-election contest next year.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

One of the important local jobs in Marin County for the year 1964 will be to push through a Mill Valley library bond issue. We trust that two previous failures won't deter the loyal library boosters whose spirits were recently raised by successful achievement of their site project.

When Frederick Thompson of Stinson Beach signed the deed release as last of three heirs to approve (all being brothers of novelist Kathleen Norris), the way was cleared for use of the north portion of Old Mill Park as a most charming place to put a new library. Thompson's son and daughter had already signed in recognition of the spiritual and physical appropriateness of this plan.

But as Mrs. John P. Farnham, the president of the library board, was prompt to point out, there's a narrow time schedule if there is to be a bond issue vote next April.

No one can say that any dragging of feet is now in evidence despite some earlier opposition. The city council has asked for a cost estimate three weeks hence, on Jan. 20, and it's expected to be available on time although a great deal of research is entailed. Topographical map and soil test studies must both be completed as prerequisites to the preliminary building plans on which the actual cost can be estimated.

But a hurry-up procedure is unavoidable because Feb. 1 is the filing time for placing this issue on the ballot.

We believe there are several good reasons why the third try for a bond issue will succeed in Mill Valley. Foremost of course is the increasing pressure on present facilities which are inadequate, and to some at least inconvenient or at worst inaccessible; yet which are nonetheless providing the finest of atmospheres and services under great handicap.

Here surely is a deserving case for which Mill Valley purses should open.

Of the three sites for which bond issues have been planned, the Old Mill Park is far and away the best in the estimate of many. It's also better than the lumber storage yard for which friends of the library tried without success.

To pass up this wonderful opportunity to place a new library in a truly Mill Valley setting of the most inspired type seems to us unthinkable. Surely the devotion of the many people who have long labored for a solution is to be rewarded by success at last.

White For The Christ Child

That Old World member of the Buttercup Family, the Christmas Rose, is blooming now in some Marin gardens. The blossom resembles a wild rose and it blooms during the holiday season—hence the name.

We like to think it is no accident that this delicate white flower blooms each year about the time of Christ's birthday. More than any other color white symbolizes purity, charity and Christian love of one's fellow man.

We like to think that this white flower for the Christ child's birthday is some kind of special coincidence.

San Anselmo On The Move

Circulation of petitions among businessmen with intent to form a downtown parking district is response to obvious need.

Equally necessary in another way is the project of converting the former Greyhound bus site into a park, preserving the creek and enhancing the area's natural beauty.

There should be room for both park and parking. This will meet two aspects of necessary San Anselmo modernization.

Feather, Hover, Zoom And Dance; What Fun In A Whirlybird!

SOME DAY when whirlybirds are skittering all over the sky I will tell my grandson, "Yes, I remember the day I took my first ride, Dec. 19, 1963.

"Went up in the blurry fog. No heater. No fog deflectors. Just a pilot named Jack."

"Jack drove," I'll say. "Or zoomed, or whatever the verb is. We hovered. We feathered. We pretended the engine konked out and we almost landed on the railroad tracks. You know what a railroad track is, don't you?

"I TOOK the trip in the interest of science and because the board of supervisors said they will put in a new pad at Commodore Helicopters to open up the helicopter bus service to International Airport.

"I was a pioneer.

"The bird we rode in was an old-fashioned two-seater and looked like the big glass eye of a huge bug."

"YOU READY?" asked Jack Harter. I nodded. Then we shot up a few feet, hovered, and zoomed off over the mud flats and Kappas' yacht harbor.

We noted the harbor looks the same from the air as it does from the ground, grubby.

We headed for the mast of a tall ship, missed it, but sent a roof-full of seagulls off in every direction from a Marinship building. The rotor scared them.

We banked. It was all so easy for Jack.

Near Ondine's we stopped in mid-air. I wasn't scared.

"OUR AIR SPEED is zero," said Jack. "We can sit here as long as we have fuel to do so."

Then we dropped and landed on some rocks on the Spinnaker sea wall and Jack waved at some diners. I waved too, piglet-like.

We went up to 500 feet and sat still in the fog. "Very foggy," said Jack.

"Now," he said, "we'll pretend the engine has failed."

We dropped suddenly, almost landed on the tracks, didn't, returned to the pad, hovered, went around in a circle as if dancing, sat down on the letter "H". And that was it.

It was all over, just like a dream.

CHOPPERS, said Charles Frankel, president of Commodore, are the sports cars of the air.

He said the new heliport will provide "bus service" carrying many passengers per copter on regular schedules and will be complementary to his "taxi service."

His service, since opening in December of 1961, has gone from no service to an average of three hours air time daily. Cost is about 80 cents a minute to the customer.

Besides taking people who want to go to places in a hurry, the 'copters fly in Santa Clauses, take fishermen into difficult canyons in jig time, dry off land so construction workers can build supermarket and they warm up cold crops.

Good old plastic bubble bug, we said to ourselves, as we left the heliport. Feather, hover, zoom, dance, what a bug!

Top News Yarns Of Year Won't Escape Due Fame After All

WASHINGTON — Every year it has been our pleasure to present the best news stories of the year. They are not necessarily the best-known stories of the year—in fact, most of them have been ignored by the press, and it is for this reason that we print them here.

The first one has to do with a man named Bobby Breaker, who lived on Capitol Hill and was a confidante of every important Senator and Congressman in Washington.

Bobby made $19,000 a year and was the key figure in the legislative branch of the government and every one was afraid to move without his approval.

ONE DAY a group of men came to him and said, "Bobby, why are you breaking your neck for $19,000 a year? Why don't you join us in a vending machine venture and make some big money?"

Bobby said he would think about it and then someone came to him and said, "We're opening a motel in Maryland and would like to cut you in on it because we like you." Bobby said he would think about it.

Finally someone said, "How would you like to be in the insurance business? We could make you a rich man." Other people came to Bobby and offered him deals in Haiti and in Las Vegas and in California, and in each case Bobby said he would think about it.

AT LAST Bobby went to his superior and said, "Sir, I have a chance of making a lot of money while I'm up here in the Senate. Should I do it?"

His superior said, "Bobby, from what you've told me, I think people are trying to use you."

"That's what I thought," he said.

So Bobby called everyone up and said he wasn't interested in their deals and that he could get by on his $19,000 a year.

The people he contacted were naturally disappointed, but they all said they admired him for his stand.

ELIZABETH WHALER, who received $1 million for playing Queen Victoria in a remake of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," fell in love with her leading man, Richard Curtain.

At first there were just rumors, then she locked her husband out of the house, and then she appeared publicly with Mr. Curtain in many of London's more intimate cabarets.

There was an immediate reaction to what Miss Whaler had done and friends came to her and begged her to break off with the handsome actor.

"THINK of the scandal," they said. "You're married and he's married."

"But I love him," she said. "But what about the press?" they cried.

"I hadn't thought about that," Miss Whaler admitted. So Miss Whaler called a press conference and said it was all a mistake and she didn't realize Mr. Curtain was a married man. She apologized for her behavior and asked the public to forgive her. The newspapers were so disappointed they never mentioned her name again. She received $500 for her next film.

PRES. CHARLES de Gaulle announced at a press conference that he was unhappy with the NATO alliance and planned to make his own atom bomb. When the Americans heard this, they protested and asked him to reconsider.

He said he would.

The next day he announced that the Americans were right and it would be a mistake for France to have its own deterrent. So he gave orders to disband the program. "I want to go down in history," he told Roscoe Drummond, "as a reasonable man."

A GROUP of Southern Senators announced they would filibuster any attempts to get a civil rights bill through the 88th Congress.

Delegates from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People visited them and pointed out that their stand was detrimental to the best interests of the country.

The Southern Senators listened politely and then their spokesman said, "The NAACP has presented strong arguments in favor of civil rights and we have changed our minds on the question.

"It's lucky we spoke to them first, before we made fools of ourselves. We certainly owe it to the country to support this bill."

S.F. Drop-Outs Resume Work

As a result of a 10-week back-to-school drive in San Francisco, 657 drop-outs returned to school while only 31 of these have dropped out once again.

"In the light of this information," Supt. Harold Spears said, "we have concluded that the recent extended counseling efforts have been effective in bringing many hundreds of youths back to school."

The San Francisco drive, he said, was spearheaded by 10 school counselors employed for a 10-week crash program to contact potential drop-outs and their parents.

Feather, Hover, Zoom And Dance; What Fun In A Whirlybird!

SOME DAY when whirlybirds are skittering all over the sky I will tell my grandson, "Yes, I remember the day I took my first ride, Dec. 19, 1963.

"Went up in the blurry fog. No heater. No fog deflectors. Just a pilot named Jack."

"Jack drove," I'll say. "Or zoomed, or whatever the verb is. We hovered. We feathered. We pretended the engine konked out and we almost landed on the railroad tracks. You know what a railroad track is, don't you?

"I TOOK the trip in the interest of science and because the board of supervisors said they will put in a new pad at Commodore Helicopters to open up the helicopter bus service to International Airport.

"I was a pioneer.

"The bird we rode in was an old-fashioned two-seater and looked like the big glass eye of a huge bug."

"YOU READY?" asked Jack Harter. I nodded. Then we shot up a few feet, hovered, and zoomed off over the mud flats and Kappas' yacht harbor.

We noted the harbor looks the same from the air as it does from the ground, grubby.

We headed for the mast of a tall ship, missed it, but sent a roof-full of seagulls off in every direction from a Marinship building. The rotor scared them.

We banked. It was all so easy for Jack.

Near Ondine's we stopped in mid-air. I wasn't scared.

"OUR AIR SPEED is zero," said Jack. "We can sit here as long as we have fuel to do so."

Then we dropped and landed on some rocks on the Spinnaker sea wall and Jack waved at some diners. I waved too, piglet-like.

We went up to 500 feet and sat still in the fog. "Very foggy," said Jack.

"Now," he said, "we'll pretend the engine has failed."

Gimpy Knee, Broken Heart — Tittle's Battle Scars

CHICAGO (UPI) — Y. A. Tittle will have to wait at least another year to prove that he can win "the big one," but few could blame him today for feeling that fate threw him for a big loss in 1963.

For a while yesterday it appeared that Tittle might realize his cherished ambition to guide the New York Giants to the National Football League championship and dispel the "can't-win-the-big-game" charges that has taunted him in recent seasons.

Instead, he wound up with a gimpy knee and a broken heart.

Tears streamed down his face as he sat dejectedly on the Giants' bench in the final seconds of the game after the Chicago Bears' sniping defense had intercepted his fifth pass. The scoreboard read: Bears 14, Giants 10," and another "big one" had gotten away.

"No excuses," he muttered in the clubhouse after the game when newsmen asked for an explanation of how he had twisted his left kneee during the second period, leaving him practically ineffective as a passer for the rest of the game.

"Someone fell across my leg when I threw that touchdown pass to Frank Gifford," Tittle finally disclosed after prodding. Tittle later was hit by linebacker Larry Morris of the Bears in the ninth minute of the second half and limped off the field.

Dr. Francis Sweeny, the Giants' physician, injected novocane and cortisone into Tittle's knee at halftime and he returned to play. But he completed only 8 of 21 passes during the second half and four were intercepted.

"I couldn't get set up very well to throw," he glumly explained. That was all. The newsmen left him alone in his misery.

Coach Al Sherman then came aggressively to the defense of the 37-year-old quarterback who had directed the Giants to three straight Eastern Division championships.

"No Alibis," Sherman repeated. "I want to say, though, that anyone who ever said that Y. A. Tittle doesn't come up to the big game should feel ashamed of himself and realize he does'nt know much about football. He was superb as far as courage goes.

"Tittle has won more big games than anyone else because in the last three years the Giants have played more big games than anyone else.

"Very few would have played on that leg," Sherman continued. "He couldn't fake. We left it up to him whether he should go in there and he asked to play. I made him promise that he'd let me know if he couldn't go on any more, but he hung right in there."

Sherman said he and his players were confident before the game that they could beat the Bears.

"You never can be sure," he said, "but we felt it. We were just right, physically and mentally."

Sherman said he could find no fault with Tittle's play-calls which resulted in interceptions by Morris and Ed O'Bradovich, setting up both Chicago touchdowns.

Del Shofner, who dropped what seemed like a certain touchdown pass in the end zone during the first period just before Morris made the first interception of a Tittle pass, said: "It was just a miserable attempt to make a catch; I should have had it." Shofner did not catch a single pass yesterday.

Besides Tittle, three other Giants were injured in the title game. Linebacker Tom Scott broke a bone in his left forearm during the first period; offensive guard Bookie Bolin suffered a concussion on the last play of the third period; and running back Phil King sprained his ankle early in the second half.

Tackle Roosevelt Brown approached Sherman and half-apologized for not winning the big game.

"You played a good game, Rosey," the coach said. "You certainly have nothing to be ashamed of.

Halas Used Upset By 49ers To Spur Bears To NFL Championship

Jack Hanley

It seems incredible that the 49ers, as miserable as their 1963 season was, were the only team that beat the Bears who tucked away the NFL world championship yesterday.

Yet, it did happen Oct. 20 in Kezar Stadium. It was the most stunning of upsets, 20-14, ended a 12-game 49er losing streak and was the first victory for Jack Christiansen who succeeded Red Hickey as the 49er coach.

"It's not much to look back on," said Christiansen whose interim coaching appointment basis—that is, at least one year—last week. "In fact," said Christiansen, "the book now is closed on '63 and we are not going to do any looking back."

It wouldn't hurt however, if Christiansen opens the 49er spring camp next season by reminding the team of that Oct. 20 effort which did prove the 49ers could play football when they put their minds to it.

GEORGE HALAS, the wise old Beach coach, had sensed the upset in the making. His Bears were 5-0 at the time and the 49ers 0-5. In practice sessions preceding the game, the Bears went through the motions but their Valley of the Moon camp seemed saturated with a deadly sense of self-satisfaction.

"I'm really worried about all this complacency around here," said Halas. "I don't like these relaxed workouts and the attitude that all we have to do to beat the 49ers is showup for the game."

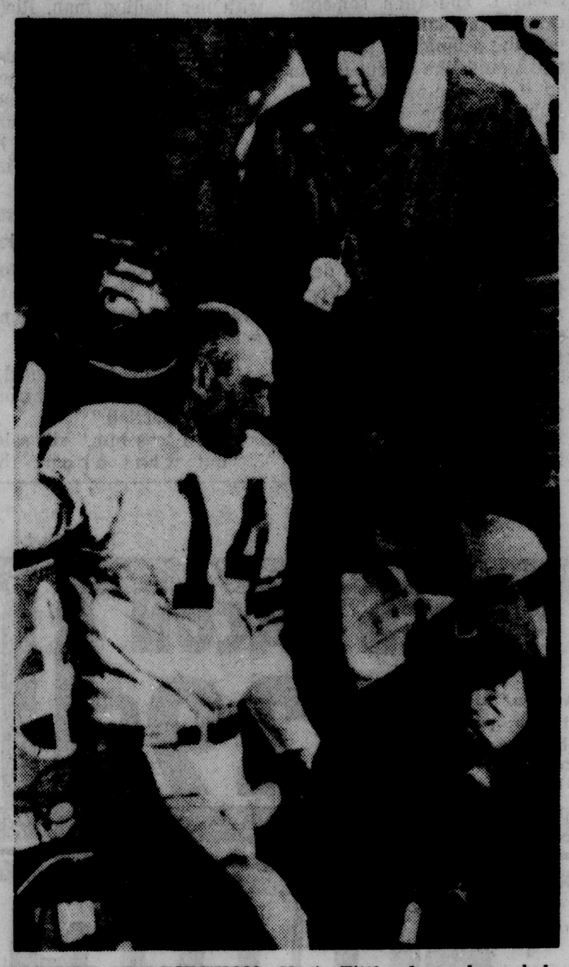

HALAS MADE several such speeches before the game but nobody would believe him because too often in the past he had cried "Wolf! Wolf!"

However, Halas, a master psychologist, used the 49er upset of the Bears to the ultimate advantage of himself and the team he founded 44 years ago with the birth of the NFL. He never has singled out individual players for praise or condemnation following a game.

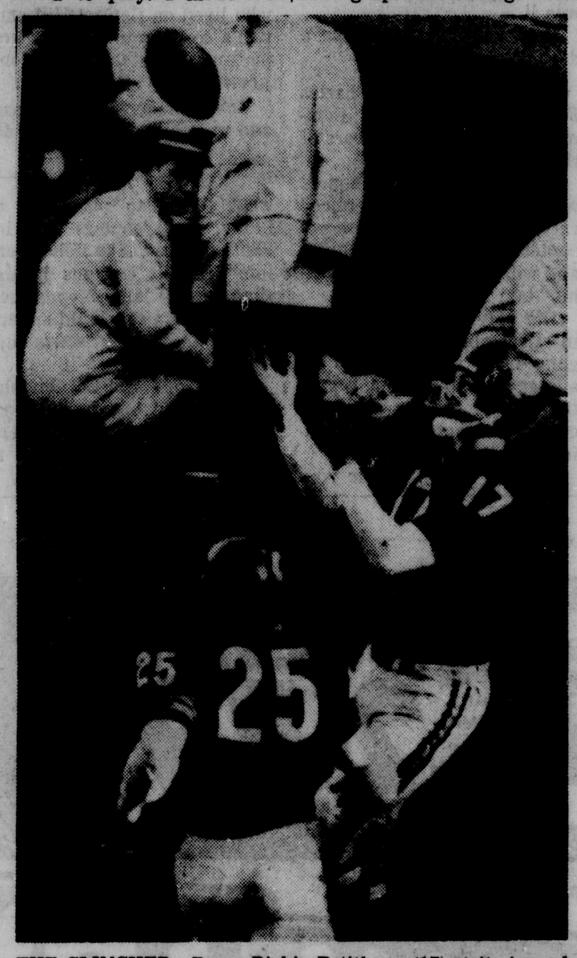

HE DID not break that rule after the 49er-Bear game of Oct. 20. But he did let the Bears know what he thought of them, not in a long harangue, but with a simple act and four words.

"You all deserve this," he said, flipping a game ball among the silent Bears in their Kezar dressing room.

Robbery In Broad Daylight

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The cheer-evoking bandits of the Chicago Bears have made their biggest haul.

They made the main contribution in the Chicago Bears' 14-10 victory over the New York Giants yesterday for the National Football League championship.

It was the Bears' eighth, but the first for Papa Bear George Halas since 1946, when the Giants again were beaten.

In a daring, daylight caper before 45,801 fans in the deep freeze of Wrigley Field, and many others watching television, the Bear's Jesse James boys robbed big money man Y. A. Tittle blind.

Five times they stole passes from this bald, 38-year-old phenom, who crippled a knee in the second quarter but courageously returned after halftime treatment to play the rest of the game.

Two of the interceptions set up Bear touchdowns, in the first and third periods.

Two others were filched in the end zone as Tittle, the NFL's top passer this season, desperately tried to hurl long scoring bombs in the fading minutes of a tense last quarter.

Putting the final clamp on the Giants hopes were the deep interceptions by Bennie McRae as Tittle opened a siege from the Giant 36 and by Rich Petitbon as the master quarterback unleashed a shot from the Bear's 37.

BEST FRISKING

Morris, voted the game's most valuable player, heisted a Tittle flip in the first period and galloped 61 yards before running out of gas on the Giant five.

Bob Jencks added the extra point and the game was tied 7-7.

The Giants had scored the first time they got the ball. Wade, who played the entire game, was shaken from the ball when Dick Lynch and Sam Huff hit him. Erich Barnes recovered it for the Giants on the Bear 41.

In seven plays, New York scored on a 14-yard pitch from Tittle to Frank Gifford. Don Chandler converted.

Early in the second period, Tittle's arm zeroed in on another goalward thrust. The Giants moved 59 yards as the Bald Eagle brought up the blood pressure of 68-year-old Halas with a 36-yard aerial to Aaron Thomas.

But the Bears' defense, the best in the league matched against the No. 1 offense in this showdown, held.

Chandler eventually booted a 13-yard filed goal and the Giants clung to a 10-7 edge.

With eight minutes remaining, Tittle slipped going back to pass and was hit by the charging Morris. He limped from the field and Glynn Griffing replaced him.

GIANTS LEAD

The Giants quelled Wade's passing attack and held the 10-7 load at halftime.

Tittle returned at the start of the second half. The Giants seemed to be on the move again, as Hugh McElhenney ran back the kickoff 47 yards.

But Davey Whitsell picked off Tittle's pass near the Bear 25 and from there the Bears drove 59 yards.

Eating up 53 of the yards were two tosses from Wade to Joe Marconi, then Wade's touchdown aerial attempts failed three times from the 21 and Roger LeClerc's field goal try from the 28 was wide.

With 2:12 left in the qaurter, Tittle's screen pass was hugged in by the 255-pound O'Bradovich, who rammed 10 yards to the Giant 14. Wade speared Mike Ditka for 12 yards and eventually sneaked inches for the decisive TD. Jencks again added the point.

KICK FAILS

The Bears appeared ready to score again early in the fourth quarter after Petibon recovered Joe Morrison's fumble on the Bear 49. But the Bears could penetrate only to the 25 and LeClerc's field goal try from the 34 again was wide.

It was then that Tittle twice herded the Giants on frantic drives that ended with interceptions by McRae and Petibon.

The triumph generally was considered an extremely popular one because of Halas, who pioneered the NFL and went $71 in the red in the 1921 season when his team won its first championship.

Only two years ago there was some cry from critics that owner Halas fire Coach Halas. In fact, he was hanged in effigy outside Wrigley Field as the season ended.

Yank Netters Bring Home The Davis Cup

HONOLULU (AP)—Davis Cup winners Dennis Ralston and Chuck McKinley won exhibition matches from two highly-rated Hawaiian amateurs last night after bringing coveted tennis honors back to the United States.

The huge Davis Cup touched U. S. soil for the first time in five years when Ralston and McKinley arrived in Honolulu with Bob Kelleher, non-playing captain of the victorious American team.

In their Honolulu matches Ralston defeated Hawaiian champion Walter Jensen 6-4, and McKinley beat Billy Higgins, nationally ranked amateur from Honolulu, also 6-4. Ralston then defeated McKinley 6-4; and in doubles play, McKinley and Higgins defeated Ralston and Jensen 7-5.

The U. S. team was in Honolulu for a brief rest after its recent Davis Cup victory over Australia, which had held the trophy since 1958 and for 11 of the past 13 years.

Kelleher and McKinley said they tentatively planned to stay in Honolulu through New Year's Day.

Billings - Hutchison Builders of Marin moved into sole possession of third place in the Alameda Winter Baseball League yesterday with a 3-2 victor over the La Fiesta Mets at Alameda.

Winning pitcher Bob DeRosa led off the ninth inning with a double off the right field fence and scored the deciding run when Ron Cole, Jess Jacinto and Ron Blum were walked, the first two intentionally.

DeRosa pitched the last four innings in relief of starter Cole. Cole gave up two runs and four hits while striking out seven in the first five innings while DeRosa gave up one hit and struck out six.

It was the sixth one-run decision the Builders have been involved in this season.

Marin Tar Cagers Lose 80-73 Count To American River

American River Junior College Beavers used fou. shooting to good advantage Saturday night to defeat the College of Marin Tars 80-73 in a non-conference basketball encounter at Sacramento.

Although Coach Cal Riemcke's Mariners outshot the Beavers from the floor — 35 field goals to 31 — American River won the game by connecting on 18 of 28 foul shots while Marin scored on only three of nine charities—far below Tar par.

The Beavers also were more accurate from the floor by hitting on 31 of 65 shots for 48 per cent compared to Marin's 35 for 76 and 46 per cent.

It was a close game from start to finish with the Beavers taking an early lead and maintaining it throughout, with a 33-28 halftime edge. "We were just nipping at their heels all night long," said Riemcke, "but couldn't quite catch them."

Marin had upset American River earlier this month in tournament play.

5-8 RECORD

The Tars now have a 5-8 won-lost record in pre-conference action with one more practice game — against Foothill College at Los Altos Friday night—scheduled before Golden Valley Conference play begins Jan. 11 at Yuba.

Riemcke sees Santa Rosa as the "team to beat" in GVC competition with Napa and his own Tars as leading contenders.

In Saturday night's game Ron O'Connell led Marin scorers with 25 points, followed by Brad Busch with 20 and Jayk Johnson with 12. Busch also led Marin rebounders.

BEARS' SHARE, $6,0000; GIANTS GET $4,200

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears can count on $6,000 each and the New York Giants about $4,200 but it isn't official. Until the National Football League comes up with an official breakdown on the financial figures of yesterday's championship final, it is strictly an estimate.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle had to hold off on final figures, pending a statement on the closed circuit TV receipts from three Chicago arenas. They had reported a 70 per cent sale Saturday.

The paid attendance of 45,801 at Wrigley Field piled up a gross gate estimated at $500,000. The TV receipts were $926,000. Of this total $450,000 went to the pension fund and $92,600 to the league office. The remaining $393,400 went into the game receipts.

Gimpy Knee, Broken Heart — Tittle's Battle Scars

CHICAGO (UPI) — Y. A. Tittle will have to wait at least another year to prove that he can win "the big one," but few could blame him today for feeling that fate threw him for a big loss in 1963.

For a while yesterday it appeared that Tittle might realize his cherished ambition to guide the New York Giants to the National Football League championship and dispel the "can't-win-the-big-game" charges that has taunted him in recent seasons.

Instead, he wound up with a gimpy knee and a broken heart.

Tears streamed down his face as he sat dejectedly on the Giants' bench in the final seconds of the game after the Chicago Bears' sniping defense had intercepted his fifth pass. The scoreboard read: Bears 14, Giants 10," and another "big one" had gotten away.

"No excuses," he muttered in the clubhouse after the game when newsmen asked for an explanation of how he had twisted his left kneee during the second period, leaving him practically ineffective as a passer for the rest of the game.

"Someone fell across my leg when I threw that touchdown pass to Frank Gifford," Tittle finally disclosed after prodding. Tittle later was hit by linebacker Larry Morris of the Bears in the ninth minute of the second half and limped off the field.

Dr. Francis Sweeny, the Giants' physician, injected novocane and cortisone into Tittle's knee at halftime and he returned to play. But he completed only 8 of 21 passes during the second half and four were intercepted.

"I couldn't get set up very well to throw," he glumly explained. That was all. The newsmen left him alone in his misery.

Coach Al Sherman then came aggressively to the defense of the 37-year-old quarterback who had directed the Giants to three straight Eastern Division championships.

"No Alibis," Sherman repeated. "I want to say, though, that anyone who ever said that Y. A. Tittle doesn't come up to the big game should feel ashamed of himself and realize he does'nt know much about football. He was superb as far as courage goes.

"Tittle has won more big games than anyone else because in the last three years the Giants have played more big games than anyone else.

"Very few would have played on that leg," Sherman continued. "He couldn't fake. We left it up to him whether he should go in there and he asked to play. I made him promise that he'd let me know if he couldn't go on any more, but he hung right in there."

Sherman said he and his players were confident before the game that they could beat the Bears.

"You never can be sure," he said, "but we felt it. We were just right, physically and mentally."

Sherman said he could find no fault with Tittle's play-calls which resulted in interceptions by Morris and Ed O'Bradovich, setting up both Chicago touchdowns.

Del Shofner, who dropped what seemed like a certain touchdown pass in the end zone during the first period just before Morris made the first interception of a Tittle pass, said: "It was just a miserable attempt to make a catch; I should have had it." Shofner did not catch a single pass yesterday.

Besides Tittle, three other Giants were injured in the title game. Linebacker Tom Scott broke a bone in his left forearm during the first period; offensive guard Bookie Bolin suffered a concussion on the last play of the third period; and running back Phil King sprained his ankle early in the second half.

"You played a good game, Rosey," the coach said. "You certainly have nothing to be ashamed of.

Jack Hanley

It seems incredible that the 49ers, as miserable as their 1963 season was, were the only team that beat the Bears who tucked away the NFL world championship yesterday.

Yet, it did happen Oct. 20 in Kezar Stadium. It was the most stunning of upsets, 20-14, ended a 12-game 49er losing streak and was the first victory for Jack Christiansen who succeeded Red Hickey as the 49er coach.

"It's not much to look back on," said Christiansen whose interim coaching appointment basis—that is, at least one year—last week. "In fact," said Christiansen, "the book now is closed on '63 and we are not going to do any looking back."

It wouldn't hurt however, if Christiansen opens the 49er spring camp next season by reminding the team of that Oct. 20 effort which did prove the 49ers could play football when they put their minds to it.

GEORGE HALAS, the wise old Beach coach, had sensed the upset in the making. His Bears were 5-0 at the time and the 49ers 0-5. In practice sessions preceding the game, the Bears went through the motions but their Valley of the Moon camp seemed saturated with a deadly sense of self-satisfaction.

"I'm really worried about all this complacency around here," said Halas. "I don't like these relaxed workouts and the attitude that all we have to do to beat the 49ers is showup for the game."

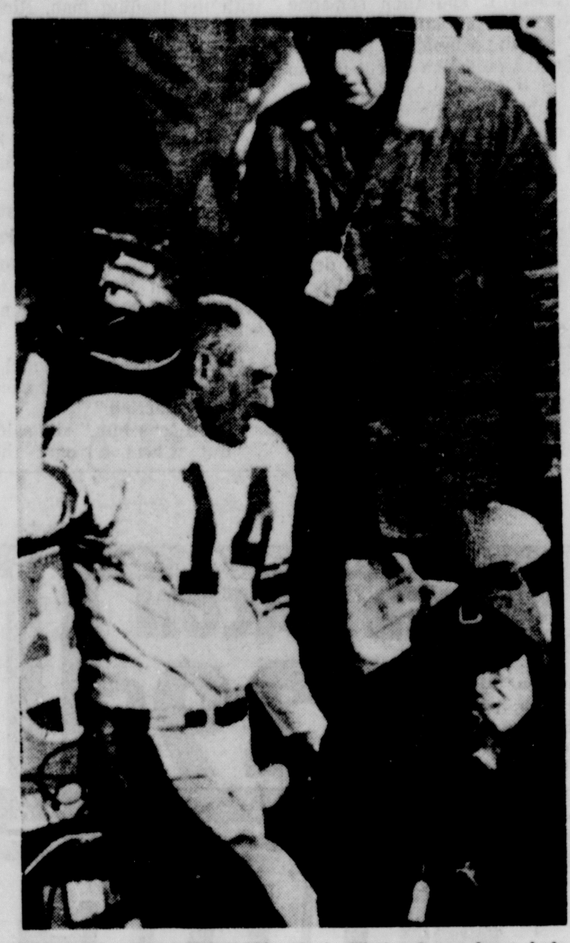

HALAS MADE several such speeches before the game but nobody would believe him because too often in the past he had cried "Wolf! Wolf!"

However, Halas, a master psychologist, used the 49er upset of the Bears to the ultimate advantage of himself and the team he founded 44 years ago with the birth of the NFL. He never has singled out individual players for praise or condemnation following a game.

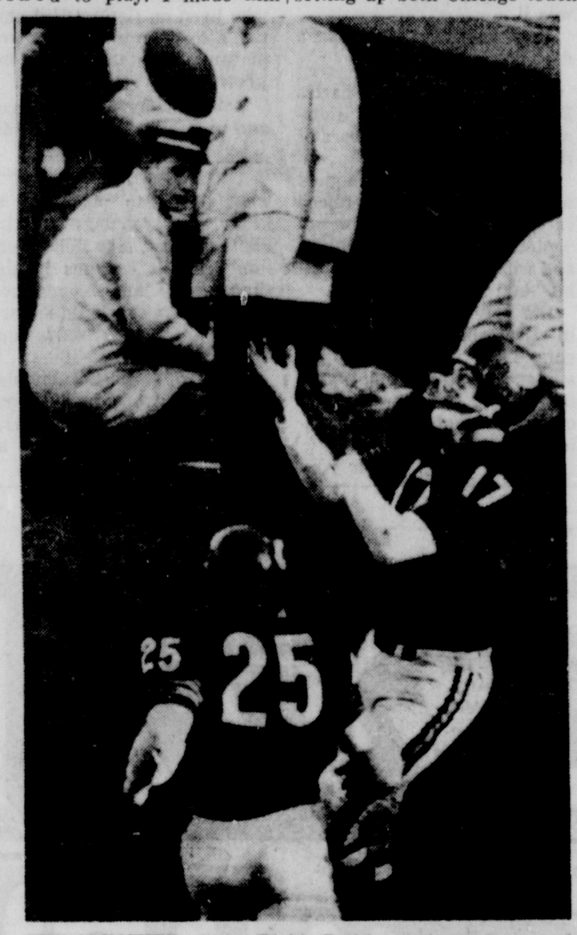

HE DID not break that rule after the 49er-Bear game of Oct. 20. But he did let the Bears know what he thought of them, not in a long harangue, but with a simple act and four words.

"You all deserve this," he said, flipping a game ball among the silent Bears in their Kezar dressing room.

Robbery In Broad Daylight

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The cheer-evoking bandits of the Chicago Bears have made their biggest haul.

They made the main contribution in the Chicago Bears' 14-10 victory over the New York Giants yesterday for the National Football League championship.

It was the Bears' eighth, but the first for Papa Bear George Halas since 1946, when the Giants again were beaten.

In a daring, daylight caper before 45,801 fans in the deep freeze of Wrigley Field, and many others watching television, the Bear's Jesse James boys robbed big money man Y. A. Tittle blind.

Five times they stole passes from this bald, 38-year-old phenom, who crippled a knee in the second quarter but courageously returned after halftime treatment to play the rest of the game.

Two of the interceptions set up Bear touchdowns, in the first and third periods.

Two others were filched in the end zone as Tittle, the NFL's top passer this season, desperately tried to hurl long scoring bombs in the fading minutes of a tense last quarter.

Putting the final clamp on the Giants hopes were the deep interceptions by Bennie McRae as Tittle opened a siege from the Giant 36 and by Rich Petitbon as the master quarterback unleashed a shot from the Bear's 37.

BEST FRISKING

Morris, voted the game's most valuable player, heisted a Tittle flip in the first period and galloped 61 yards before running out of gas on the Giant five.

Bob Jencks added the extra point and the game was tied 7-7.

The Giants had scored the first time they got the ball. Wade, who played the entire game, was shaken from the ball when Dick Lynch and Sam Huff hit him. Erich Barnes recovered it for the Giants on the Bear 41.

Early in the second period, Tittle's arm zeroed in on another goalward thrust. The Giants moved 59 yards as the Bald Eagle brought up the blood pressure of 68-year-old Halas with a 36-yard aerial to Aaron Thomas.

But the Bears' defense, the best in the league matched against the No. 1 offense in this showdown, held.

Chandler eventually booted a 13-yard filed goal and the Giants clung to a 10-7 edge.

With eight minutes remaining, Tittle slipped going back to pass and was hit by the charging Morris. He limped from the field and Glynn Griffing replaced him.

GIANTS LEAD

The Giants quelled Wade's passing attack and held the 10-7 load at halftime.

Tittle returned at the start of the second half. The Giants seemed to be on the move again, as Hugh McElhenney ran back the kickoff 47 yards.

But Davey Whitsell picked off Tittle's pass near the Bear 25 and from there the Bears drove 59 yards.

Eating up 53 of the yards were two tosses from Wade to Joe Marconi, then Wade's touchdown aerial attempts failed three times from the 21 and Roger LeClerc's field goal try from the 28 was wide.

With 2:12 left in the qaurter, Tittle's screen pass was hugged in by the 255-pound O'Bradovich, who rammed 10 yards to the Giant 14. Wade speared Mike Ditka for 12 yards and eventually sneaked inches for the decisive TD. Jencks again added the point.

KICK FAILS

The Bears appeared ready to score again early in the fourth quarter after Petibon recovered Joe Morrison's fumble on the Bear 49. But the Bears could penetrate only to the 25 and LeClerc's field goal try from the 34 again was wide.

It was then that Tittle twice herded the Giants on frantic drives that ended with interceptions by McRae and Petibon.

The triumph generally was considered an extremely popular one because of Halas, who pioneered the NFL and went $71 in the red in the 1921 season when his team won its first championship.

Only two years ago there was some cry from critics that owner Halas fire Coach Halas. In fact, he was hanged in effigy outside Wrigley Field as the season ended.

Coach Blasts Illini: 'Dead And Listless'

Warning: Huskies Have Giant Killer Talents

The verbal fireworks came during a Sunday drill in which Elliott said he thought the Illini performed "sort of dead and listless."

For about six minutes, Pete peppered his players with a sharp criticism of what he said struck him as nonchalant attitude toward preparation for the Rose Bowl game.

During his blast off, Elliott suggested pointedly that any player not ready for an all-out effort New Year's Day should stay in his hotel room.

After his stern lecture in midfield of Brookside Park adjacent to the Rose Bowl, Elliott sent the Illini through 20 more minutes of dummy scrimmage.

"They looked a lot better after that little talk," Elliott said.

Elliott's outburst appeared to most observers to be mainly a psychological jab to keep his Illini from viewing Washington—owning a lackluster 6-4 season record—as a soft Rose Bowl touch.

Pete told writers he was keenly aware of the Huskies' giant-killer talent in Rose Bowl competition.

"I'd say Washington twice before played its best game of the season in the Rose Bowl.

"I anticipate the Huskies will play their best game of the season by considerable in this game Wednesday. That can be a pretty vital factor in the outcome."

Elliott was referring to the upset triumphs scored by Jim Owens' Huskies in the 1960 Rose Bowl game over Wisconsin and in the 1961 game over Minnesota.

Center Big Man In Illinois Plans

Much has been made of the play of All-American center Dick Butkus in the Illini parade to a 7-1-1 record and No. 3 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

But the Huskies certainly neutralized at least one other highly toted Big 10 lineman in Rose Bowl play. That was Minnesota's great Tom Brown, who proved just another guard to the Huskies.

Elliott scoffed at Illinois' seven-point favoritism to score the many starts since Ray Elliot's Illini launched the current Big 10-Big six Rose Bowl feud in 1947.

In that series opener, "unwanted" Illinois trumped UCLA 45-14. In the 1952 game, Eliot's Illini belted Stanford 40-7.

"I just feel that point-picking business doesn't mean much," said Elliott. "I feel the game is played on the field. I must say, though, that while I don't know how these people figure out those things (odds), they sometimes seem pretty at it."

Elliott, whose California Bears bowed to Iowa's Hawkeyes 38-12 in the 1959 Rose Bowl game, seems most impressed with quarterback Bill Douglas as chief Washington menace to his Illini.

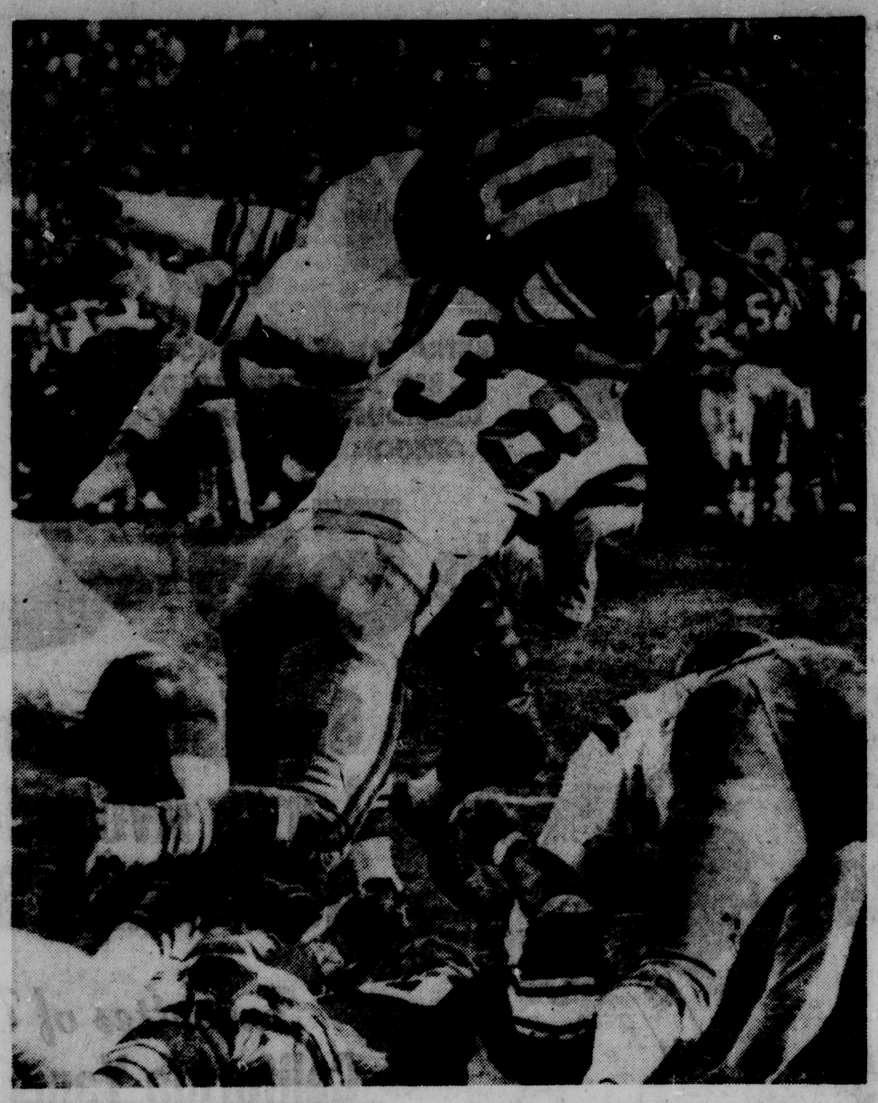

Douglas Rated Washington Standout

"Douglas is quick as a cat," said Elliott. "He runs the run-pass option extremely well. Because he is such a fine rollout runner and can throw so well in full stride, he has had only three interceptions on 111 tosses.

"He may run with the ball 70 per cent of the time rather than gamble on a pass when he sees his receiver covered. It is significant that Douglas has carried the ball more times (123) than either of Washington's two fine and fast fullbacks—Junior Coffey (90) or Charlie Browing (84).

"Douglas can go all the way, which makes Washington's offense a little different than any other team we have faced using a rollout quarterback."

On defense, Elliott said, the Huskies have "real speed and quickness."

Navy-Texas Game Headlines Big New Year's Bowl Slate

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Texas and Navy ready to battle for college football's unofficial championship, the bustling bowl season reaches its peak this week as fans get the chance to put aside their annual hangovers temporarily in favor of the big four post-season clashes.

The Cotton Bowl has be far the biggest and most interesting attraction for New Year's Day, but it still must share the spotlight with the Rose, Orange and Sugar contests. Four other bowls help conclude the college season this week.

Another quartet of games had their fling last Saturday. North Carolina walloped Air Force 35-0 in the Gator Bowl, the East and the West fought to a 6-6 tie, the Gray took the Blue 21-14 and Western Kentucky had an easy time with Otto Graham's Coast Guard in the Tangerine Bowl, winning 27-0.

Roger Staubach and his second-ranked Middie mates invade the lair of the Texas Longhorns, the country's No. 1 team in the regular season, for the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Unbeaten Texas will have to fend off the East's best to remain first in the minds of the nation's fans.

WASHINGTON WEAK

Illinois faces a relatively weak West Coast representative, Washington, in the Rose Bowl. Big Eight champion Nebraska meets Auburn in the Orange and Mississippi battles Alabama in a neighborhood get together in the Sugar Bowl.

In a prelude to the big day, Southern Methodist, lone conqueror of Navy, plays Oregon in the Sun Bowl tomorrow. Finally, three all-star contests—the Senior, the Hula and the South-west Challenge bowls—round out the schedule Saturday.

STILL ALL EVEN

The East and the West started their 39th annual contest with an even amount of points scored—455. When it was over, they were still even.

Two missed extra point attempts helped the frustration. Pete Beathard of Southern California booted his try wide after Baylor's Don Trull hit Willie Brown of Southern California with a 25-yard scoring pass in the third quarter. Pitt fullback Rick Leeson's kick was blocked following a 10-yard touchdown scoot by Michigan State's Sherm Lewis in the final period.

At Montgomery, Ala., Georgia quarterback Larry Rakestraw poured it on the Blue with touchdown tosses of 44 and 10 yards to Mallon Faircloth of Tennessee. In all Rakestraw hit on 14 of 22 aerials for 177 yards.

And Western Kentucky, an down on the financial figures-undefeated team itself, spoiled Coast Guard's perfect season at Orlando, Fla. Sharon Miller completed only two of six passes, but both went for touchdowns.

Indians, San Jose St., UCLA Toast Of Coast

San Jose State and neighbor Stanford share a West Coast Basketball question with Oregon State today: Can any of them overtake UCLA as the West's best team?

UCLA won its ninth straight game and the Los Angeles Classic title Saturday with an 83-79 squeaker over Illinois in what Bruins' coach Johnny Wooden called one of their "worst games of the year."

San Jose broke tradition Saturday by beating Santa Clara 56-55, thus becoming the first team to win the West Coast Athletic Conference tournament for two consecutive years. But a WCAC tourney champion has never won the league's round-robin title.

Stanford posted its sixth consecutive win, 80-70 over Southern Methodist. But the Indians face their first trial by fire of the year tonight at Arizona State. The powerful Sun Devils have won 51 consecutive home court victories.

Independent Oregon State, now 7-1, will try for its eighth straight sweep of the Far West Classic in Portland tonight facing Brigham Young University.

The ninth-ranked Beavers got to the finals by squeaking past Colorado State, 53-51, and BYU advanced over Oregon, 80-70.

Southern California, an expected Big Six contender, dropped to sixth place in the Los Angeles tourney by losing to 10th ranked New York University 70-69 in the final 16 seconds.

SPARTAN HEROES

J. T. Saffold hit a 10-foot jump shot to put San Jose ahead to stay with 58 seconds remaining and teammate Ron Labetich followed with four straight free throws to ice the game. Santa Clara's Russ Vrankovich, tourney's choice for most valuable player, led scorers with 21 markers.

Santa Barbara edged St. Mary's 73-70 for third place in the WCAC tourney, University of San Francisco beat Pacific 77-67 for fifth and Loyola dropped Pepperdine 76-60 for seventh.

Illinois nearly obliterated a big UCLA lead, closing to 79-78. But the Bruins stalled out the clock for the victory. The fourth-ranked Bruins seem certain to improve that rating since they walloped No. 3 Michigan in the tourney's second round and No. 1 ranked Loyola lost in an eastern tournment.

Tom Dose led Stanford with 27 points and Rick Waaken hit four straight free throws to save Oregon State in the last two minutes against Colorado State.

Seals Coach Boasts: 'We Could Be On Our Way Now'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Seals, who had seemed washed up in the Western Hockey League race, were on a three-game winning streak today while the Los Angeles Blades complained of combat fatigue.

"We could be on our way," Coach Bud Poile of the Seals said following a 7-1 romp yesterday through the Blades.

"We can't outskate everybody but we're big enough to hit 'em all hard enough."

Coach Alf Pike of the Blades said that his team was both physically and mentally tired when it took the ice yesterday only sixteen hours after losing in overtime at Denver.

"And our play showed it," Pike declared. "We need some sleep."

The Seals, who had dropped six out of seven to Los Angeles this season, coasted home on a "laugher" yesterday that featured a three-goal hat trick by Al Nicholson and a beef between the Blades' Frank Arnett and a fan.

Nicholson bested Jim McLeod, the Los Angeles goalie, with a 25-footer in the first period then jammed in two more close range as the Blades were surrendering five tallies during the last session.

FREE FOR ALL

Four seconds before the middle period ended, the teams squared off in a free-for-all. Arnett's face was jammed against the screen during the fracas and a fan on the other side belted him.

Blood streaming from his forehead, Arnett twice slammed his stick against the barrier in retaliation then tried to scale it. He left the ice for repairs but was back skating again during the lopsided third period.

Poile credited defenseman Gerry Odrowski with playing a key role in the Seals' victory in which the only Los Angeles tally was scored late in the game by Leo Labine.

"We have a situation, though," Poile said. "Larry McNab, our other defenseman, has been in such a slump that he hasn't suited up for three games. And now that we have won all three of them, I'm afraid to pass him in the hall."

Defensive Geniuses In East-West Clash

If it was defensive genius the pro scouts were looking for in the East-West game on Saturday at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, then they got an eyeful of perfection and a bookful of notes.

The 39th renewal of the Shrine classic was supposed to be a wide-open affair, featuring the passing of Don Trull of Baylor for the West and the running of a group of fleet backs for the East.

But it turned into a titanic defensive battle in which:

—There were 10 pass interceptions.

—The ball was lost three times on fumbles because of jarring tackles.

—And only two touchdowns were scored. The final count was a 6-6 deadlock.

"It was the strongest line play I've ever seen," said Coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, one of the East coaching aides. "There was a lot of head-knocking both ways."

Trull had a miserable first half when the defense roughed him up and he gained only 69 yards through the air. He wound up with 155 yards gained on 15 completions out of 32 attempts. But he had four intercepted.

The secondary boys stood out on both sides. For the East, Jay Wilkinson, the All-America from Duke, intercepted two; Paul Warfield, Ohio State, knocked off a pair, and fullback Rick Leeson of Pitt picked off one.

For the West, Willie Brown of Southern California, who scored the touchdown, had two interceptions; Jerry Richardson of West texas had a pair, and Dave Parks of Texas Tech got one.

The defense was so strong that it set up the first touchdown of the game for the West in the third quarter. Ron Di Gravio of Purdue, the East quarterback, was snowed under by a horde of linemen, fumbled and end Jim McNaughton of Utah State recovered for the West on the East 25.

WEST TOUCHDOWN

On the first play, Trull dropped back and tossed a high pass into the end zone. Brown shook off a pair of defenders, leaped high in the air and pulled in the ball over his shoulder for the score. The conversion attempt was blocked.

The East came back with what looked like the tying score a moment later. On this one quarterback Pete Liske of Penn State handed off to Wilkinson, who ran to his right, then tossed downfield to Paul Krause of Iowa. The play was good for 55 yards and what looked like a touchdown. But officials ruled that Wilkinson had gone beyond the line of scrimmage before he tossed the ball and the play was called back.

The East was not to be denied, however. In the waning moments of the game it started a drive from its two-yard line featuring Liske's passing. It rolled to the 10, from where little 160-pound Sherman Lewis, the All-America whiz from Michigan State, rolled around end and romped into the end zone for the score.

With a chance to win the game on a conversion, Leeson was sent in to attempt the conversion. But Parks sliced across from his end position unmolested and the ball never got more than six inches away from Leeson's foot.

LINE GREATS

It was that kind of a game—the defense in charge all the way. Such line greats as Carl Eller, Minnesota; Dave Ellison, Purdue, and Kent Pike, Northwestern, held the West to 65 yards rushing.

The East made 144 yards rushing, but was held to 162 passing.

Outstanding ball carrier for the West was Tony Lorick of Arizona State, who packed the ball 20 times for 65 yards. Lewis picked up 54 yards in eight carries for the East, and fullback Gene Donaldson of Purdue made 36 on six rushes.

Brown won the most valuable player award for his performances on both offense and defense. And end Verne Burke, All-America star from Oregon State who caught nine passes for 80 yards, won the trophy for outstanding lineman.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio

If This Be Corn, I'll Have Mine on a Cob!

Each year, as my personal fortunes improve, and the devotion of my good wife, Myrl, and obstinate — but — equally — good daughter, Marilyn weathers the test of time, the "loot" I gather at Christmas grows. This year was no exception. I now have so many alpaca sweaters I may have to take up golf yet. Just kidding, Doug. As long as you and our customers don't mind a casually-attired general manager, I'll wear 'em right here at Ames Ford.

Not just sweaters. No sir. So many gifts. So many bottles. My goodness. For a guy who feels particularly sporting when he flippantly orders a second, I've got enough for two hundred lost weekends. And I can expect little help from Myrl or Marilyn either. When I ask for a second, Myrl has barely sampled her first and only, and Marilyn isn't even curious about the stuff. Oh well. A chance visitor with a thirst can find the best-stocked after-hours joint in town if he stumbles on our door step.

Of all my prizes this year, the one I most appreciate is the large silk American flag Myrl presented to me for my new office at Ames Ford. The office was beautifully furnished before. Now, with Old Glory standing proudly in the corner, it is beautifully finished. The office lacked color before. It is filled with color now.

A couple of characters who saw fit to make snide remarks about the supposed incongruity of the flag in my office didn't reckon with my ability to shrivel a foe with a word at twenty paces. I hope, fervently, they will lick their wounds in their own barren workrooms and return to Ames Ford properly enlightened. Thankfully, Doug Cowan and my fellow men and women at Ames Ford don't consider my taste in decor strange.

I feel no necessity to explain my pride in our country. My present fortunate status is moot testimony to the promise that is available to anyone in America. The story of my trip to today is trite, and Horatio Alger told it better, anyway. Suffice to say my venerable father, now still spry at 80+, enjoys a measure of personal pride in the accomplishments of his brood of 10 surviving children, not the least of whom is the incorrigible "Luigi," who was wasting too much time with books, according to his cronies in that Detroit ghetto.

"Only in America," my Dad is fond of saying, spoiling for an argument that never comes from me, "can an old goat herder like me live to see my children happy and prosperous, after 2 wars and 2 depressions. The Old Country—Italy, too, is for the birds, in comparison to the United States!"

By gad, my Dad said it as well as Horatio! Come visit me in my new office at Ames Ford. And admire with me, my flag!

Coach Blasts Illini: 'Dead And Listless'

Warning: Huskies Have Giant Killer Talents

The verbal fireworks came during a Sunday drill in which Elliott said he thought the Illini performed "sort of dead and listless."

For about six minutes, Pete peppered his players with a sharp criticism of what he said struck him as nonchalant attitude toward preparation for the Rose Bowl game.

During his blast off, Elliott suggested pointedly that any player not ready for an all-out effort New Year's Day should stay in his hotel room.

After his stern lecture in midfield of Brookside Park adjacent to the Rose Bowl, Elliott sent the Illini through 20 more minutes of dummy scrimmage.

"They looked a lot better after that little talk," Elliott said.

Elliott's outburst appeared to most observers to be mainly a psychological jab to keep his Illini from viewing Washington—owning a lackluster 6-4 season record—as a soft Rose Bowl touch.

Pete told writers he was keenly aware of the Huskies' giant-killer talent in Rose Bowl competition.

"I'd say Washington twice before played its best game of the season in the Rose Bowl.

"I anticipate the Huskies will play their best game of the season by considerable in this game Wednesday. That can be a pretty vital factor in the outcome."

Elliott was referring to the upset triumphs scored by Jim Owens' Huskies in the 1960 Rose Bowl game over Wisconsin and in the 1961 game over Minnesota.

Center Big Man In Illinois Plans

Much has been made of the play of All-American center Dick Butkus in the Illini parade to a 7-1-1 record and No. 3 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

But the Huskies certainly neutralized at least one other highly toted Big 10 lineman in Rose Bowl play. That was Minnesota's great Tom Brown, who proved just another guard to the Huskies.

Elliott scoffed at Illinois' seven-point favoritism to score the many starts since Ray Elliot's Illini launched the current Big 10-Big six Rose Bowl feud in 1947.

In that series opener, "unwanted" Illinois trumped UCLA 45-14. In the 1952 game, Eliot's Illini belted Stanford 40-7.

"I just feel that point-picking business doesn't mean much," said Elliott. "I feel the game is played on the field. I must say, though, that while I don't know how these people figure out those things (odds), they sometimes seem pretty at it."

Elliott, whose California Bears bowed to Iowa's Hawkeyes 38-12 in the 1959 Rose Bowl game, seems most impressed with quarterback Bill Douglas as chief Washington menace to his Illini.

Douglas Rated Washington Standout

"Douglas is quick as a cat," said Elliott. "He runs the run-pass option extremely well. Because he is such a fine rollout runner and can throw so well in full stride, he has had only three interceptions on 111 tosses.

"He may run with the ball 70 per cent of the time rather than gamble on a pass when he sees his receiver covered. It is significant that Douglas has carried the ball more times (123) than either of Washington's two fine and fast fullbacks—Junior Coffey (90) or Charlie Browing (84).

"Douglas can go all the way, which makes Washington's offense a little different than any other team we have faced using a rollout quarterback."

On defense, Elliott said, the Huskies have "real speed and quickness."

WEST TOUCHDOWN

On the first play, Trull dropped back and tossed a high pass into the end zone. Brown shook off a pair of defenders, leaped high in the air and pulled in the ball over his shoulder for the score. The conversion attempt was blocked.

The East came back with what looked like the tying score a moment later. On this one quarterback Pete Liske of Penn State handed off to Wilkinson, who ran to his right, then tossed downfield to Paul Krause of Iowa. The play was good for 55 yards and what looked like a touchdown. But officials ruled that Wilkinson had gone beyond the line of scrimmage before he tossed the ball and the play was called back.

The East was not to be denied, however. In the waning moments of the game it started a drive from its two-yard line featuring Liske's passing. It rolled to the 10, from where little 160-pound Sherman Lewis, the All-America whiz from Michigan State, rolled around end and romped into the end zone for the score.

With a chance to win the game on a conversion, Leeson was sent in to attempt the conversion. But Parks sliced across

Outstanding ball carrier for the West was Tony Lorick of Arizona State, who packed the ball 20 times for 65 yards. Lewis picked up 54 yards in eight carries for the East, and fullback Gene Donaldson of Purdue made 36 on six rushes.

Brown won the most valuable player award for his performances on both offense and defense. And end Verne Burke, All-America star from Oregon State who caught nine passes for 80 yards, won the trophy for outstanding lineman.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio

If This Be Corn, I'll Have Mine on a Cob!

Each year, as my personal fortunes improve, and the devotion of my good wife, Myrl, and obstinate — but — equally — good daughter, Marilyn weathers the test of time, the "loot" I gather at Christmas grows. This year was no exception. I now have so many alpaca sweaters I may have to take up golf yet. Just kidding, Doug. As long as you and our customers don't mind a casually-attired general manager, I'll wear 'em right here at Ames Ford.

Not just sweaters. No sir. So many gifts. So many bottles. My goodness. For a guy who feels particularly sporting when he flippantly orders a second, I've got enough for two hundred lost weekends. And I can expect little help from Myrl or Marilyn either. When I ask for a second, Myrl has barely sampled her first and only, and Marilyn isn't even curious about the stuff. Oh well. A chance visitor with a thirst can find the best-stocked after-hours joint in town if he stumbles on our door step.

Of all my prizes this year, the one I most appreciate is the large silk American flag Myrl presented to me for my new office at Ames Ford. The office was beautifully furnished before. Now, with Old Glory standing proudly in the corner, it is beautifully finished. The office lacked color before. It is filled with color now.

A couple of characters who saw fit to make snide remarks about the supposed incongruity of the flag in my office didn't reckon with my ability to shrivel a foe with a word at twenty paces. I hope, fervently, they will lick their wounds in their own barren workrooms and return to Ames Ford properly enlightened. Thankfully, Doug Cowan and my fellow men and women at Ames Ford don't consider my taste in decor strange.

I feel no necessity to explain my pride in our country. My present fortunate status is moot testimony to the promise that is available to anyone in America. The story of my trip to today is trite, and Horatio Alger told it better, anyway. Suffice to say my venerable father, now still spry at 80+, enjoys a measure of personal pride in the accomplishments of his brood of 10 surviving children, not the least of whom is the incorrigible "Luigi," who was wasting too much time with books, according to his cronies in that Detroit ghetto.

"Only in America," my Dad is fond of saying, spoiling for an argument that never comes from me, "can an old goat herder like me live to see my children happy and prosperous, after 2 wars and 2 depressions. The Old Country—Italy, too, is for the birds, in comparison to the United States!"

By gad, my Dad said it as well as Horatio! Come visit me in my new office at Ames Ford. And admire with me, my flag!

Best Wishes For A Happy New Year From All Of Us At Safeway

MARIN'S WHITE TIE affair was the second Debutante Ball at Peacock Gap, a Marin General Hospital benefit. Last year's ball netted gifts of an electronic cell counter and photomicroscope for the hospital.

THE LAST of 181 muu muus they made for children at Sonoma State Hospital is checked by Mrs. Edward Pareto and Mrs. Steve Zappetini for the MARC organization . . .

LOOKING BACKWARD

At Some People And Events—

By BARBARA HOSMER

There's time for one last, long look before the onrushing new year—

The past 12 months have been ones of pointed toes and kneecaps, wig showings and frankly fake furs, boots, and dark hints that hemlines may be going down. . . .

Marin women chattered over the Civic Center and "The Feminine Mystique" and took courses and collected money for nearly every conceivable cause. Conservationists labored to save the tidelands and there was scarcely a gathering that had no worthy end tied to it. "Just for fun" parties are not indigenous to Marin, it seems.

THERE WERE SOME fine moments—

Parents marched their families out to lick down KO polio sugar cubes several fine Sundays—casually and undramatically—in what may prove to be the most far-reaching event of the year. A strong assist to the program's success came from P-TA volunteers and others throughout the county and from Marin Medical Society Auxiliary gals.

MARIN'S FIRST citizen Mrs. Norman B. Livermore was given an 80th birthday party at the Marin Art and Garden summer luncheon series. . .

AND SOMETIMES things went awry—

One bridal bouquet made a perfect arc into the punch bowl and had to be wrung out and tossed again to the waiting hopefuls. But guests found the punch delicious.

THE ANNUAL charity duplicate bridge tournament netted $125 for MARC despite a harrowing hour when two players were trapped in the ladies lounge by a faulty lock on the door. The locking mechanism was released by firemen in time to deal the victims in for the evening session, however.

AND THERE WAS the club luncheon in Tiburon when guests sat and sat and sat waiting for the high-powered fashion and charm folks from town to appear and present the program, and the ticklish moment when the voice at the other end of the phone said they'd forgotten. . .

BUT THERE WERE successes, too—

Novato's first summer recreation program drew 1,239 youngsters and their elders. Clothes were practically sold off the models' backs at a showing of fashions donated to the Sausalito Salvage Shop.

THE SAUSALITO WOMAN'S Club scored with its third all-Sausalito artists' art show with nearly the whole town—hill crowd and waterfront folk—participating. St. Stepehns Guild in Belvedere gave up its usual ball to run a two-day games event that went well.

EVEN THE DEBUTANTE Ball went more smoothly, though 27 debs were a roomful, and lack of space forced dancing of the cotillion figure to be cancelled from the ceremony at the last moment. A slimmed down stage and larger dining and dancing tents helped relieve the crowding of last year. At their own request the debs' fathers did the escort honors as each girl was presented. Then the girls' escorts claimed the first dance, usually the fathers' prerogative.

SUCCESSFUL, TOO, at Peacock was the first Concours d'Elegance given in a big way by the Martin Florence Crittenton Circle, which plans a repeat.

Another first was the Ross Guild of the Boyd Museum's benefit tour of Maple Lawn, newly acquired by the Elks.

And further successes were the sponsors tea for the Marin Shakespeare Festival; St. John's Church women's furniture sale which sold out by 11 a.m.; Marin Motion Picture and TV Council's film benefit which gained enough duplicating equipment so as not to need another . . .

MILL VALLEY'S Awareness Group continued to have the most interesting and controversial speakers. The Marin Unit of San Francisco Junior League found its geographic boundary dissolved into the more general S. F. League. Ballet Aquacade pulled out of the Marin General Hospital fold and became a separate non-profit organization.

Marin Women

USED IJs became smashing chapeaux for Novato's Presbyterian Women who snipped and pasted happily at their fun and fellowship day.

HER 90th birthday was marked for Mrs. Ernest A. Evans at a tea by the Mill Valley Community Church Club. Living in the same home she and her husband built in Mill Valley in 1906, she looks back on a life of leadership and service in several fields. A Mount Holyoke graduate, she has always attended her class reunion every five years.

WHEN THREE little girls in Novato wanted to learn to square dance Mrs. Edward Willey formed the Lil Angels and made the red and white costumes for the 16 member group, which danced for school carnivals and community organizations.

JANE CATHERINE DAVIDSON

Jane Davidson To Be Bride Of Frank S. Hills In April

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest B. Davidson of Mill Valley and formerly of Los Altos, have announced the engagement of their daughter Jane Catherine to Frank S. Hills of Los Altos. The announcement was made at a party given by the Davidsons at their Harbor Point home.

Events Of Laughter And Pride

Beauty was highlight of St. Rita's Guild bargain sale and silent auction. Sunny Hills Juniors revived their "Around the World" luncheons which had begun in 1949. Jazz trumpeter Muggsy Spanier blew his horn for the benefit of Tom Thumb Chapter. Junior riders formed the Meadowbrook Hunt, with Novato headquarters.

Mrs. J. Hudson Ballard of Novato became an honorary member of the San Francisco Theological Seminary Auxiliary. Mrs. Joseph Goulding of Mill Valley received a 50-year pin from Gamma Phi. The Marin Civic Ballet Assn. was formed to stimulate interest in ballet here.

THE GRAY LADIES voted expand the pilot program they began with Reed School district, assisting the school nurse. Miss Georgia Wintringham, who moved to Carmel Highlands, was honored by the Presbyterian Church and San Rafael Improvement Club for her life work of beautifying San Rafael streets.

Teen-age volunteers spent six weeks helping with the summer recreation program for retarded children.

CHARITY BALL was a circus . . . Mannequin Leaguers modeled and modeled and modeled. Junior Social Service splintered into chapters which became active fund-raisers immediately. Marin Foundation took establishment of a home for teen-age girls as its goal.

MRS. GAIL ADAMS won the Luther Gulick award — Camp Fire's highest — for her continued volunteer work. Before national did it she used to test every mint recipe in her home before using it to publicize the mint sale.

Mrs. Lawrence P. McNear became the first honorary member of San Rafael General Hospital Founders Auxiliary in May.

HAMILTON OFFICERS Wives Club snagged the original Little Ol' Winemaker for their "Wine, Women and Song" luncheon. The Mill Valley UVS entertained the senior citizens at a Grand Slam Luncheon, and Mrs. Harvey Klyce, only surviving founder, was honored by the Outdoor Art Club on her 90th birthday.

Camellia Wong came from Tahiti to stay with the Spike Africa family, whose daughter, Dee Dee, met her in Tahiti when the Africas were aboard Sterling Hayden's Wanderer four years ago.

Dr. Richmond Barbour, Patterson and Mrs. William T. Roberts.

MILL VALLEY'S perennial traveler, Roberta Winans, found herself the only passenger steaming along the South American coast aboard a Norwegian freighter. A retired social worker, she feels she "can afford to live dangerously" now that she's 71.

Other voyagers in the news were the Bill Pomeroys who chipped out on a year long voyage to the Far East and other parts aboard their yacht, which encountered wildly storm water off Alaska.

A BIT OF THE wild west was evidenced when the ranchy Indian Valley people gathered at a cocktail party at Mrs. Elizabeth DeBaun's home. Mrs. Charles P. Davies came on horseback and later when her steed became untethered it led guests a merry chase until lassoed by Robert Melone and Robert DeBaun, sons of the party-goers.

SPEAKING OF the wild west, the Last Chance Salon is the new label for the Family Service Assn. thrift shop in Mill Valley which picked itself up by the boostraps and pushed its way through swinging doors at 27 Throckmorton . . . a far cry from the original Children's Cottage it was, with new sample merchandise rather than the rummage format.

Name change, too, for the 35-year-old San Anselmo Women's Tennis Club, which becomes "Marin Women's Tennis Club" which has a familiar ring somehow . . .

The Mill Valley Tennis Club celebrated its 35th year with a costume party of the 1928 era, and a 1933 Brewster and 1932 Cadillac called for the widows of two founders who attended.

SEVERAL THINGS were new —

A woman, Mrs. Persis Stanley, became commander of the Mill Valley American Legion Post.

Novato Art Guild split over the representational and expressionist theories and Novato Society of Advanced Artists was formed by representational artists . . .

BETA SIGMA PHI formed a new exemplar chapter in Novato.

Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin had a permanent headquarters for first time since its origination here in the 1930s.

Women's Auxiliary to California Correctional Officers was formed by San Quentin officers' wives . . .

Alderson Convalescent Home in Novato had a new volunteer auxiliary, and Gray Ladies planned to serve Center Medical in Ross. A chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children was formed.

MRS. RUSSELL MILLS followed in her mother's footsteps when she was elected president of the Outdoor Art Club . . .

MRS. SIMON ANIXTER was honored for heading 1962-63 campaign of Women's Division, Jewish Welfare Federation . . .

First subject in a continuing IJ series on Marin's working women was attorney and labor law expert Bella Aaron.

THE GEORGE Marretts of Novato became one of the new astronaut families when Capt. Marrett was chosen for space training.

ALL TOLD, it was an event-filled, promising year.

Daly-Braden Nuptials In Colusa Saturday

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Colusa was the setting for the wedding Saturday of Barclay Burt Braden and Jeffrey Nash Daly of Kentfield. The Rev. Raymond Lemert officiated at the ceremony, for which the bride was given in marriage by her father, Frederick Braden.

Barclay recited vows in an oyster white Italian silk gown appliqued with lace medallions on the full length skirt.

Her attendants, who were Brock Taylor of Leavenworth, Kan., and Paula Daly of Kentfield, sister of the bridegroom, wore full length jade green velvet empire dresses with pink ribbon bands.

Peter Rowe, of Piedmont, served as best man, and ushering were Fox Braden, the bride's brother; Chet Hinshaw of Chico, Tom Weisel of San Francisco, William Purcell of Larkspur and Jack Lowe of Ojai.

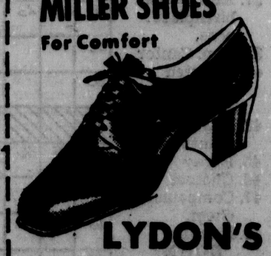

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Braden of Colusa. The young couple will live in New York City, where the bridegroom is in his first year at Columbia Law School.

The bride attended Santa Catalina School for Girls and was graduated from Stanford University. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Burt of Leavenworth and the late Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Braden.

Jeffrey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Daly of Kent Woodlands. He was graduated from Redwood High School and Stanford University. Paula, his sister, is a junior at University of California.

His grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Daly and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Nash.

Events Of Laughter And Pride

Beauty was highlight of St. Rita's Guild bargain sale and silent auction. Sunny Hills Juniors revived their "Around the World" luncheons which had begun in 1949. Jazz trumpeter Muggsy Spanier blew his horn for the benefit of Tom Thumb Chapter. Junior riders formed the Meadowbrook Hunt, with Novato headquarters.

Mrs. J. Hudson Ballard of Novato became an honorary member of the San Francisco Theological Seminary Auxiliary. Mrs. Joseph Goulding of Mill Valley received a 50-year pin from Gamma Phi. The Marin Civic Ballet Assn. was formed to stimulate interest in ballet here.

THE GRAY LADIES voted expand the pilot program they began with Reed School district, assisting the school nurse. Miss Georgia Wintringham, who moved to Carmel Highlands, was honored by the Presbyterian Church and San Rafael Improvement Club for her life work of beautifying San Rafael streets.

Teen-age volunteers spent six weeks helping with the summer recreation program for retarded children.

CHARITY BALL was a circus . . . Mannequin Leaguers modeled and modeled and modeled. Junior Social Service splintered into chapters which became active fund-raisers immediately. Marin Foundation took establishment of a home for teen-age girls as its goal.

A story in the IJ on the dynamic Mrs. Delmar Clinton recalling happy childhood memories of Marin before the turn of the century brought response from old-timers and newcomers alike.

MRS. GAIL ADAMS won the Luther Gulick award — Camp Fire's highest — for her continued volunteer work. Before national did it she used to test every mint recipe in her home before using it to publicize the mint sale.

Mrs. Lawrence P. McNear became the first honorary member of San Rafael General Hospital Founders Auxiliary in May.

HAMILTON OFFICERS Wives Club snagged the original Little Ol' Winemaker for their "Wine, Women and Song" luncheon. The Mill Valley UVS entertained the senior citizens at a Grand Slam Luncheon and Mrs. Harvey Klyce, only surviving founder, was honored by the Outdoor Art Club on her 90th birthday.

Camellia Wong came from Tahiti to stay with the Spike Africa family, whose daughter, Dee Dee, met her in Tahiti when the Africas were aboard Sterling Hayden's Wanderer four years ago.

Dr. Richmond Barbour, Patterson and Mrs. William T. Roberts.

MILL VALLEY'S perennial traveler, Roberta Winans, found herself the only passenger steaming along the South American coast aboard a Norwegian freighter. A retired social worker, she feels she "can afford to live dangerously" now that she's 71.

Other voyagers in the news were the Bill Pomeroys who chipped out on a year long voyage to the Far East and other parts aboard their yacht, which encountered wildly storm water off Alaska.

A BIT OF THE wild west was evidenced when the ranchy Indian Valley people gathered at a cocktail party at Mrs. Elizabeth DeBaun's home. Mrs. Charles P. Davies came on horseback and later when her steed became untethered it led guests a merry chase until lassoed by Robert Melone and Robert DeBaun, sons of the party-goers.

SPEAKING OF the wild west, the Last Chance Salon is the new label for the Family Service Assn. thrift shop in Mill Valley which picked itself up by the boostraps and pushed its way through swinging doors at 27 Throckmorton . . . a far cry from the original Children's Cottage it was, with new sample merchandise rather than the rummage format.

Name change, too, for the 35-year-old San Anselmo Women's Tennis Club, which becomes "Marin Women's Tennis Club" which has a familiar ring somehow . . .

The Mill Valley Tennis Club celebrated its 35th year with a costume party of the 1928 era, and a 1933 Brewster and 1932 Cadillac called for the widows of two founders who attended.

SEVERAL THINGS were new —

A woman, Mrs. Persis Stanley, became commander of the Mill Valley American Legion Post.

Novato Art Guild split over the representational and expressionist theories and Novato Society of Advanced Artists was formed by representational artists . . .

BETA SIGMA PHI formed a new exemplar chapter in Novato.

Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin had a permanent headquarters for first time since its origination here in the 1930s.

Women's Auxiliary to California Correctional Officers was formed by San Quentin officers' wives . . .

Alderson Convalescent Home in Novato had a new volunteer auxiliary, and Gray Ladies planned to serve Center Medical in Ross. A chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children was formed.

MRS. RUSSELL MILLS followed in her mother's footsteps when she was elected president of the Outdoor Art Club . . .

MRS. SIMON ANIXTER was honored for heading 1962-63 campaign of Women's Division, Jewish Welfare Federation . . .

First subject in a continuing IJ series on Marin's working women was attorney and labor law expert Bella Aaron.

THE GEORGE Marretts of Novato became one of the new astronaut families when Capt. Marrett was chosen for space training.

ALL TOLD, it was an event-filled, promising year.

RECALLING THEIR founding in 1909 as one of the first women's clubs in Marin was the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club of Kentfield, whose members dressed up in appropriate garb and reviewed the group's original meeting notes.

The moon is full. The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1853, the United States purchased the land south of the Gila River in southern Arizona and New Mexico. The deal was later known as the "Gadsoe" purchase.

In 1865, the British poet Rudyard Kipling was born.

In 1903, fire broke out in the Iroquois Theater in Chicago killing more than 550 persons.

In 1947, King Michael of Rumania abdicated, charging he was forced out by local Communists aided by the Russians.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

WINNING BRIDGE

In Some Hands There Is A Suit Neither Side Can Safely Work On

In some hands there is a suit that neither side can safely work on.

You can get good results in such hands if you eliminate the other suits and force an opponent to tackle the unsafe suit.

Neither side can safely tackle clubs. South will lose two club tricks by hammering away at the suit, but this loss will be reduced to one trick if either opponent begins the suit.

PLAY CLUBS

Mrs. Stella Rebner, well-known Los Angeles expert, forced the opponents to play clubs for her when she encountered this hand in a recent rubber bridge game.

She could afford only a partial elimination, but it was enough.

West opened the deuce of hearts, and East finessed the ten, allowing declarer to win with the queen.

DRAWS TRUMPS

Mrs. Rebner returned a heart, losing dummy's king to the ace, and ruffed the heart continuation.

Having eliminated hearts from the North-South hands, Mrs. Rebner next drew trumps. Two rounds fortunately sufficed.

The ace of diamonds and a low diamond followed. The defenders had to lead a third diamond since nothing else was safe.

STAGE SET

Declarer ruffed, and now the stage was set since Mrs. Rebner had one trump and three clubs in each hand.

Declarer led a low club from her hand and finessed with dummy's eight.

East had to win with the queen of clubs.

If East returned a club, dummy's jack would win a trick; and if East returned a heart,

Answer: Bid seven notrump. You have 22 points, and partner has at least 16. The total is at least 38 points, so that the opponents can have only a queen at most. The grand slam should be a breeze.

The moon is full. The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1853, the United States purchased the land south of the Gila River in southern Arizona and New Mexico. The deal was later known as the "Gadsoe" purchase.

In 1865, the British poet Rudyard Kipling was born.

In 1903, fire broke out in the Iroquois Theater in Chicago killing more than 550 persons.

In 1947, King Michael of Rumania abdicated, charging he was forced out by local Communists aided by the Russians.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In Some Hands There Is A Suit Neither Side Can Safely Work On

In some hands there is a suit that neither side can safely work on.

Opening lead — ♡ 2

Neither side can safely tackle clubs. South will lose two club tricks by hammering away at the suit, but this loss will be reduced to one trick if either opponent begins the suit.

PLAY CLUBS

Mrs. Stella Rebner, well-known Los Angeles expert, forced the opponents to play clubs for her when she encountered this hand in a recent rubber bridge game.

She could afford only a partial elimination, but it was enough.

West opened the deuce of hearts, and East finessed the ten, allowing declarer to win with the queen.

DRAWS TRUMPS

Mrs. Rebner returned a heart, losing dummy's king to the ace, and ruffed the heart continuation.

Having eliminated hearts from the North-South hands, Mrs. Rebner next drew trumps. Two rounds fortunately sufficed.

The ace of diamonds and a low diamond followed. The defenders had to lead a third diamond since nothing else was safe.

STAGE SET

Declarer ruffed, and now the stage was set since Mrs. Rebner had one trump and three clubs in each hand.

Declarer led a low club from her hand and finessed with dummy's eight.

East had to win with the queen of clubs.

If East returned a club, dummy's jack would win a trick; and if East returned a heart,

QUESTION

Partner opens with one notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ A K Q J 3
♦ A Q J
♣ 7 5.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid seven notrump. You have 22 points, and partner has at least 16. The total is at least 38 points, so that the opponents can have only a queen at most. The grand slam should be a breeze.

QUESTION

♥ A Q 3.
♣ A.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades (forcing to game).

You should expect to lose two spades and two hearts at most. Game should be easy if partner has as little as the jack of hearts.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

In psoriasis, a chronic skin disease, the lesions are covered with adherent, dry, silvery scales. The eruption comes and goes and tends to get worse with emotional stress, obesity, or alcoholism. Injury is another factor; new patches often appear over areas subjected to repeated trauma, such as elbows, knees, buttocks, and scalp.

Most victims are healthy, and no one ever dies of psoriasis. Sunlight has a beneficial effect and, in addition, many good remedies are available. Small lesions are treated by removing the scales and applying a lubricating ointment like petrolatum. Salves containing salicylic acid help soften the scales, and sulfur is said to have a healing effect. Small lesions that refuse to improve under simpler methods may respond to the injection of one of the steroids under the scales.

SALICYLIC ACID and sulfur also are recommended for scalp lesions. These chemicals are less messy when incorporated into a washable ointment base that can be washed out easily with a shampoo.

Widespread involvement is more difficult to eradicate. A good treatment is to apply a synthetic corticosteroid in a cream or lotion and cover the area at night with a plastic substance. Remove it in the morning. In some instances, the entire body is wrapped in this fashion, but this is best done when the individual is hospitalized. Occasionally, dramatic improvement is noted.

THE SAFEST remedy is the old reliable—tar and ultraviolet light. Prolonged exposure is necessary and the patient must be taught how to use the lamp safely and effectively. The tar is applied at night and removed with mineral oil in the morning. After a tub bath, the areas are exposed to ultraviolet. This daily routine should be followed until the skin has healed.

Aminopterin is the latest internal remedy. This anticancer drug is trick to use and is potentially dangerous when employed over a long period.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on psoriasis if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

INTURNED EYELIDS

J. F. writes: Is surgery the only cure for spastic entropion?

REPLY

The eye specialist often suggests the use of adhesive tape to keep the lid from turning in. If this does not work, he may cauterize the openings of the lashes or inject alcohol into them. Surgery may be needed if no relief is obtained with these simpler procedures.

ALCOHOL AND TRANQUILIZERS

Mrs. P. writes: My husband, a former mental patient, takes a tranquilizer. He drinks two beers a day and, on infrequent social occasions, has as many mixed drinks as he wishes. Is he harming himself by doing this?

REPLY

Not if the social occasions are infrequent.

ENLARGED ISTHMUS

H. W. C. writes: What is meant by constriction of the trachea by the thyroid isthmus?

REPLY

VEIN PROBLEMS

J. H. writes: Is thrombophlebitis different from phlebitis?

REPLY

Phlebitis is inflammation of a vein. Thrombophlebitis is the same except that blood sticks to the inflamed wall and a clot (thrombus) develops. It usually is difficult to have one without the other.

Mosk said the real estate commission also would have the power to require builders to insure that the seller of subdivision parcels can produce his product exactly as he would represent it to the purchasing public.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

In psoriasis, a chronic skin disease, the lesions are covered with adherent, dry, silvery scales. The eruption comes and goes and tends to get worse with emotional stress, obesity, or alcoholism. Injury is another factor; new patches often appear over areas subjected to repeated trauma, such as elbows, knees, buttocks, and scalp.

Most victims are healthy, and no one ever dies of psoriasis. Sunlight has a beneficial effect and, in addition, many good remedies are available. Small lesions are treated by removing the scales and applying a lubricating ointment like petrolatum. Salves containing salicylic acid help soften the scales, and sulfur is said to have a healing effect. Small lesions that refuse to improve under simpler methods may respond to the injection of one of the steroids under the scales.

SALICYLIC ACID and sulfur also are recommended for scalp lesions. These chemicals are less messy when incorporated into a washable ointment base that can be washed out easily with a shampoo.

Widespread involvement is more difficult to eradicate. A good treatment is to apply a synthetic corticosteroid in a cream or lotion and cover the area at night with a plastic substance. Remove it in the morning. In some instances, the entire body is wrapped in this fashion, but this is best done when the individual is hospitalized. Occasionally, dramatic improvement is noted.

THE SAFEST remedy is the old reliable—tar and ultraviolet light. Prolonged exposure is necessary and the patient must be taught how to use the lamp safely and effectively. The tar is applied at night and removed with mineral oil in the morning. After a tub bath, the areas are exposed to ultraviolet. This daily routine should be followed until the skin has healed.

Aminopterin is the latest internal remedy. This anticancer drug is trick to use and is potentially dangerous when employed over a long period.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on psoriasis if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

INTURNED EYELIDS

J. F. writes: Is surgery the only cure for spastic entropion?

REPLY

The eye specialist often suggests the use of adhesive tape to keep the lid from turning in. If this does not work, he may cauterize the openings of the lashes or inject alcohol into them. Surgery may be needed if no relief is obtained with these simpler procedures.

ALCOHOL AND TRANQUILIZERS

Mrs. P. writes: My husband, a former mental patient, takes a tranquilizer. He drinks two beers a day and, on infrequent social occasions, has as many mixed drinks as he wishes. Is he harming himself by doing this?

REPLY

Not if the social occasions are infrequent.

ENLARGED ISTHMUS

H. W. C. writes: What is meant by constriction of the trachea by the thyroid isthmus?

REPLY

VEIN PROBLEMS

J. H. writes: Is thrombophlebitis different from phlebitis?

REPLY

Phlebitis is inflammation of a vein. Thrombophlebitis is the same except that blood sticks to the inflamed wall and a clot (thrombus) develops. It usually is difficult to have one without the other.

Kephart, a retired Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. executive, was awarded the honor for "his work with patriotic and civic organizations and for his courageous activities during World War II." He served in the Army during World War I and the Army and Air Corps during World War II, attaining the rank of major.

Blind Band Marches Well

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Although they cannot see, members of the Michigan School for the Blind Band march in perfect formation and their playing has won top honors at state and district festivals many times.

The youngsters learn musical scores by Braille, memorize them and practice until they have mastered the tunes. In marching, the students keep shoulder-to-shoulder contact to form straight ranks.

Leonard J. Chard, director of the band, understands their problems. He has been blind himself since infancy.

Golfers still follow the 13 basic principles of "gowff" laid down by the "22 noblemen and gentlemen" who organized the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews in 1754.

Fierce Cobra Is Offered Boyd Museum

Capt. Jack Wooster, the "seashell king" who formerly lived in San Rafael, has offered to send the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum a spitting cobra.

But Captain Wooster, who was a director of the museum while in San Rafael, warns that there should be careful consideration given the offer before it is accepted.

LONG RANGE

The captain lives in the Philippine Islands. His divers bring up shells which are shipped all over the world. His interests, however, are not limited to marine biology. He also keeps his eye out for land creatures — things the Louise A. Boyd Museum might be interested in and things for a small museum he has started in Manila.

"I could exchange a cobra for a rattlesnake, but if this is accepted never let the children come within five feet of it," Captain Wooster wrote in a recent letter to the museum. "Cobras are as full of tricks as a monkey and as deadly as a .45 bullet. Remember, it shall be a spitting cobra and its range is some four feet. I advise you think well before accepting."

Captain Wooster returned to his Philippine haunts two years ago after the death of his mother. He left his shell collection to the museum, a gift in memory of his mother. Al Bottleson, museum director, said the collection is worth about $10,000.

GREAT CARE

Bottleson said the museum has not accepted any of Captain Wooster's many offers of animals yet. Bottleson ruled out the spitting cobra, explaining that it would take great care to keep it.

The Louise A. Boyd Museum has sent two skunks and some rattlesnakes to the captain's Manila museum, Bottleson said. Captain Wooster is ready to reciprocate with "a monkey or two, a nice little nine-foot python, a young crocodile and a pair of hornbills." He also offers seashells if the museum wants any more.

Christmas Seal Drive Continues

Christmas is past Christmas Seals campaigning by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. continues, according to Mrs. Corwin Hinshaw, campaign chairman.

But Christmas Seals contributions during Christmas week totaled $1,731 as compared to $2,330 during the 1962 Christmas week.

"The work of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. goes on 365 days a year, and contributions for seals are the sole means of financing it," Mrs. Hinshaw said.

Hamilton Report On Hospital Unit Agenda

The Hamilton report will be discussed by the Marin Hospital District board at 8 p.m. Jan. 7 in the Marin General Hospital conference room, Administrator William W. Turner announced today.

The meeting was continued from this month because it would have fallen on Christmas Eve. The report to be discussed was prepared by James A. Hamilton Associates of Minneapolis, Minn. It projects hospital and nursing home needs of the county during the next 22 years.

Many Marin Spots Plan New Year's Eve Traditions

By HARRY CRAFT

Many Marin nightspots will observe the traditions of New Year's Eve tomorrow night—festive dinners, music, Auld Lang Syne, serpentine and noisemakers — and, at some places, dancing.

In Sausalito, food and entertainment combinations are billed along the Bridgeway at Alioto's Arbordale, featuring actress - musician Maggie Perkins; the Trident with the Jean Hoffman Trio; and Valhalla with the Mary Lee Trio. Special dinner program at the latter begins at 10:30 p.m. Make reservations.

Also open for the dinner trade, each according to its regular custom, but generally celebrating more quietly, are Ondine, Alto Mira Hotel, Spinnaker, Le Vivoir (Casa Madrona Hotel), Rico's, Zack's and the Buckeye. Le Vivoir will be closed New Year's Day—so will Ondine, and on the day after. Make reservations at both places.

On the 101 Highway, Sabella's has a rare evening planned, with dancing to Bob Olney's group, same as last year. In downtown Mill Valley, the Office will have a pianist and midnight favors.

In Tiburon, make reservations for Caprice—but it may already be booked up. Sam's Anchor Cafe and Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai will be open but for dinner "as usual." At 39 Main, the Minstrels (pianist and two banjo players) are billed; short orders will be served until closing.

Open, but without special entertainment, are Bob's of Marin and Marin Joe's in Corte Madera. Only the Embers bar and lounge will be open — no food. There's music by the banjo band planned at Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, and lounge music at Confucious in the Bon Air Center.

Henry's Ol' Place, San Anselmo under the new owners is expected to be open. There may be entertainment. The Ranch House, open for service, schedules banjo and accordion music.

Deer Park Villa in Fairfax has a musical combo programmed, and Rubini's will have the popular organ and piano duo Frank Stitt and Lowell Hawk. Dinner periods at 5:30, 7:30 and 10 p.m. all require reservations at Rubini's. Enrico's plans on closing about 9:30.

Rancho Nicasio will have its regular New Year's annual package, with dancing to Jack Barnes' group—but at this late date may be booked up. We're not sure.

Both Drake's Arms and Inverness Lodge are open New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. Make reservations.

Two places in San Rafael will pull for the dancing crowd. Bermuda Palms, in the Camelia Room, will feature a big floor show and dancing to Goldie and His Boys. No food here after 8 p.m. Di Pietro's, at 1 Vivian Way (off Francisco Boulevard) will have dancing to the Music Makers, and possibly a vocalist. No food here; no cover charge.

Other spots providing some entertainment during the evening are Casa Linda on the Miracle Mile (Mariachi Trio probable, but not certain); Cellars with Al Stanley's violin; La Petite Auberge, with Al Stone and his accordion roaming among the dinner tables; San Rafael Joe's, with Gordon Tucker at the organ. Restaurants open, but concentrating on food, are Dominic's, Le Chalet, Lin Fa Gardens (Northgate Shopping Center), Mission Inn and Franchini's Chateau.

There's a good bit of activity planned up the highway. Nero's Room at Ignacio has scheduled a big evening, with dancing to Pat Kelly's Trio in the atrium. Make reservations. The Rancho Rafael also — Don Regan is heading the musical program, and the Rancho is featuring an overnight package.

In Novato, the Hill Top is open and will have an orchestra for dancing. At Cloud 5, the upstairs Cloud Room features Don Flack and Emory Stevenson at drums and organ for dancing. Tomahawk Lodge is another place where an overnight package is available (or simply dinner and dancing) with music by the Three Little Indians. The Red Vest (Nave Shopping Center) is having its grand reopening with a champagne dinner and possibly some entertainment. Black Point Inn will be open, probably with piano and banjo music.

SCULPTOR TO SHOW—Joe Clark, Tiburon sculptor, will open his show at the Quay Gallery on Main Street, Tiburon, on Thursday. Drawings by Ernest Rosenthal of Los Angeles will also be exhibited. Gallery hours are 1 to 7 Thursday through Sunday.

Feminine Logic On Bank Hours

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was a few minutes before 2 p.m., bank closing time in the city, when a woman depositor ran north along Charles Street and pulled up stunned in front of the site where her bank used to stand.

The bank was gone, and a pedestrian told her: "It has moved up to Mulberry Street."

"Well," she replied. "If they have moved farther away, they should stay open a little longer."

Youth Is Nominated For Military Academy

Robert Sherman, Jr., of 48 Madeline Court, Novato, has been nominated by Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) to attend West Point Military Academy.

Sherman is one of 12 young Californians named by Engle to compete for three state vacancies at West Point next year. The nominees will be tested and evaluated by academy officials who will make the final selections.

Twelve Marin Students Win Top Honors At University

Composer Lowe Gives Royalties To Hospital

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Composer Frederick Fritz Loewe has given music royalties worth an estimated 1 million dollars to Desert Hospital.

Mosaic Award For Marinite

Helen Steinau Rich of Belvedere won the Louise S. Ackerman first prize award at the San Francisco Women Artists Annual for her mosaic "Kali," in a repeat victory.

Mrs. Rich's work will be on display at the show at the San Francisco Museum of Art on Van Ness Avenue until Jan. 12. Last year she won the Thea de Greeves first prize award for mosaics.

Raccoons often dunk their food in water, though they will eat it dry. Some scientists say coons moisten their food because they have poor salivary glands.

Kephart, a retired Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. executive, was awarded the honor for "his work with patriotic and civic organizations and for his courageous activities during World War II." Blind Band Marches Well

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Although they cannot see, members of the Michigan School for the Blind Band march in perfect formation and their playing has won top honors at state and district festivals many times.

The youngsters learn musical scores by Braille, memorize them and practice until they have mastered the tunes. In marching, the students keep shoulder-to-shoulder contact to form straight ranks.

Leonard J. Chard, director of the band, understands their problems. He has been blind himself since infancy.

Golfers still follow the 13 basic principles of "gowff" laid down by the "22 noblemen and gentlemen" who organized the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews in 1754.

Fierce Cobra Is Offered Boyd Museum

Capt. Jack Wooster, the "seashell king" who formerly lived in San Rafael, has offered to send the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum a spitting cobra.

But Captain Wooster, who was a director of the museum while in San Rafael, warns that there should be careful consideration given the offer before it is accepted.

LONG RANGE

The captain lives in the Philippine Islands. His divers bring up shells which are shipped all over the world. His interests, however, are not limited to marine biology. He also keeps his eye out for land creatures — things the Louise A. Boyd Museum might be interested in and things for a small museum he has started in Manila.

"I could exchange a cobra for a rattlesnake, but if this is accepted never let the children come within five feet of it," Captain Wooster wrote in a recent letter to the museum. "Cobras are as full of tricks as a monkey and as deadly as a .45 bullet. Remember, it shall be a spitting cobra and its range is some four feet. I advise you think well before accepting."

Captain Wooster returned to his Philippine haunts two years ago after the death of his mother. He left his shell collection to the museum, a gift in memory of his mother. Al Bottleson, museum director, said the collection is worth about $10,000.

GREAT CARE

Bottleson said the museum has not accepted any of Captain Wooster's many offers of animals yet. Bottleson ruled out the spitting cobra, explaining that it would take great care to keep it.

The Louise A. Boyd Museum has sent two skunks and some rattlesnakes to the captain's Manila museum, Bottleson said. Captain Wooster is ready to reciprocate with "a monkey or two, a nice little nine-foot python, a young crocodile and a pair of hornbills." He also offers seashells if the museum wants any more.

Christmas Seal Drive Continues

Christmas is past Christmas Seals campaigning by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. continues, according to Mrs. Corwin Hinshaw, campaign chairman.

But Christmas Seals contributions during Christmas week totaled $1,731 as compared to $2,330 during the 1962 Christmas week.

"The work of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. goes on 365 days a year, and contributions for seals are the sole means of financing it," Mrs. Hinshaw said.

Hamilton Report On Hospital Unit Agenda

The Hamilton report will be discussed by the Marin Hospital District board at 8 p.m. Jan. 7 in the Marin General Hospital conference room, Administrator William W. Turner announced today.

The meeting was continued from this month because it would have fallen on Christmas Eve. The report to be discussed was prepared by James A. Hamilton Associates of Minneapolis, Minn. It projects hospital and nursing home needs of the county during the next 22 years.

In Tiburon, make reservations for Caprice—but it may already be booked up. Sam's Anchor Cafe and Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai will be open but for dinner "as usual." At 39 Main, the Minstrels (pianist and two banjo players) are billed; short orders will be served until closing.

Open, but without special entertainment, are Bob's of Marin and Marin Joe's in Corte Madera. Only the Embers bar and lounge will be open — no food. There's music by the banjo band planned at Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, and lounge music at Confucious in the Bon Air Center.

Henry's Ol' Place, San Anselmo under the new owners is expected to be open. There may be entertainment. The Ranch House, open for service, schedules banjo and accordion music.

Deer Park Villa in Fairfax has a musical combo programmed, and Rubini's will have the popular organ and piano duo Frank Stitt and Lowell Hawk. Dinner periods at 5:30, 7:30 and 10 p.m. all require reservations at Rubini's. Enrico's plans on closing about 9:30.

Rancho Nicasio will have its regular New Year's annual package, with dancing to Jack Barnes' group—but at this late date may be booked up. We're not sure.

Both Drake's Arms and Inverness Lodge are open New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. Make reservations.

Two places in San Rafael will pull for the dancing crowd. Bermuda Palms, in the Camelia Room, will feature a big floor show and dancing to Goldie and His Boys. No food here after 8 p.m. Di Pietro's, at 1 Vivian Way (off Francisco Boulevard) will have dancing to the Music Makers, and possibly a vocalist. No food here; no cover charge.

Other spots providing some entertainment during the evening are Casa Linda on the Miracle Mile (Mariachi Trio probable, but not certain); Cellars with Al Stanley's violin; La Petite Auberge, with Al Stone and his accordion roaming among the dinner tables; San Rafael Joe's, with Gordon Tucker at the organ. Restaurants open, but concentrating on food, are Dominic's, Le Chalet, Lin Fa Gardens (Northgate Shopping Center), Mission Inn and Franchini's Chateau.

There's a good bit of activity planned up the highway. Nero's Room at Ignacio has scheduled a big evening, with dancing to Pat Kelly's Trio in the atrium. Make reservations. The Rancho Rafael also — Don Regan is heading the musical program, and the Rancho is featuring an overnight package.

In Novato, the Hill Top is open and will have an orchestra for dancing. At Cloud 5, the upstairs Cloud Room features Don Flack and Emory Stevenson at drums and organ for dancing. Tomahawk Lodge is another place where an overnight package is available (or simply dinner and dancing) with music by the Three Little Indians. The Red Vest (Nave Shopping Center) is having its grand reopening with a champagne dinner and possibly some entertainment. Black Point Inn will be open, probably with piano and banjo music.

SCULPTOR TO SHOW—Joe Clark, Tiburon sculptor, will open his show at the Quay Gallery on Main Street, Tiburon, on Thursday. Drawings by Ernest Rosenthal of Los Angeles will also be exhibited. Gallery hours are 1 to 7 Thursday through Sunday.

Feminine Logic On Bank Hours

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was a few minutes before 2 p.m., bank closing time in the city, when a woman depositor ran north along Charles Street and pulled up stunned in front of the site where her bank used to stand.

The bank was gone, and a pedestrian told her: "It has moved up to Mulberry Street."

"Well," she replied. "If they have moved farther away, they should stay open a little longer."

Mosaic Award For Marinite

Mrs. Rich's work will be on display at the show at the San Francisco Museum of Art on Van Ness Avenue until Jan. 12. Last year she won the Thea de Greeves first prize award for mosaics.

Raccoons often dunk their food in water, though they will eat it dry. Some scientists say coons moisten their food because they have poor salivary glands.
